TO DROP TWO-THIRDS RULE

DEMOCRATIC RULES COMMITTEE APPROVES MOVE

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25.—The voice of the New Deal convention is loud in the land. From every street corner loud speaker you are hearing tell of the dreadful shape the country was in on March 4, 1933, when the miracle man took over. This is the burden of all the speeches of the convention.

It undoubtedly will be the theme of Mr. Roosevelt's speech on Saturday, the climax towards which the whole show is being directed.

Is it possible that at that time Mr. Roosevelt will have the audicity to quote from his inaugural address? When he delivered it he was looking forward to 1936, confident that he could then quote himself and say, "Behold what we have done!"

He cannot at this date follow this strategy without being tripped up by facts. If he should say that ten million men were out of work and the budget was out of balance on that ırk day when he took office, he may hear an echo: "Those men are still looking for jobs, and the budget is still hopelessly unbalanced."

The talk is quite general that Mr. Roosevelt now is laying the ground work for a third term, as in March, 1933, he sowed the seed for the present campaign. Manager Farley sniffs at the idea, but if the country is to be entirely relieved of this apprehension it must be by the president himself, and in a statement that admits of no double interpretation, perhaps he will make such a statement part of his Saturday night speech. It would help to allay suspicions aroused by the proposed abrogation of the two-thirds rule.

Outside the convention hall it begins to look more and more as if even a second term for Mr. Roosevelt is a violent presumption. The Philadelphia auditorium, naturally enough, is going New Deal in a big way. Conventions, however, nominate; they do not elect.

Weather conditions last night downtown, rather on the order of early fall, gave rather an unusual study in attire. Sauntering along the street was a young lady, in a partial sun-back dress, apparently unmindful of the chill in the air, while just following was a young man wearing a topcoat that was buttoned around him as though he was really cold.

Brief Session Of Convention Is Held At Noon

Expect Platform Drafters To Be Ready To Report At Evening Session

TWO THIRDS RULE MAY STIR BATTLE

Delegates Also Differ On Question Of Constitutional Amendment Action

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, June 25.—Delayed by heated arguments over the platform and the abrogation of the century-old two-thirds nominating rule, the Democratic national convention held a brief half-hour session today and then recessed until 8 o'clock tonight.

The convention, as usual, was late getting under way. Called to meet at 11 a. m., the hour of noon came and passed with only a handful of delegates on the floor and virtually no one in the galleries. The pipe organ and the band vied with each other in entertaining the stragglers.

Galleries Empty

It was 12:15 before Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, still functioning as temporary chairman, rapped the delegates into their seats. The galleries were virtually empty. The floor was only partially filled.

The Rev. Dr. George Emerson Barnes, moderator of the Philadelphia Presbytery, pronounced the invocation while the audience stood.

The prayer ended, Barkley announced that a delegate from Hawaii had lost his badge and wanted it back again. He announced, too, that the hard battling resolutions committee would meet at 3 p. m., to receive the report of the sub-committee of 12 who labored throughout the night trying to reconcile the divergent views on platform language.

Ready For Business

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 25.—Oratorical fanfares behind them, the key-noters all sounded, the Democrats squared away today to the real business of their national convention—the renomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner, the adoption of a platform, and the abrogation of the century-old two-thirds nominating rule.

No Democratic national convention was ever completely harmonious and this one was proving no exception today to the old rule. Agreed unanimously, as they were, on the ticket, the Democrats still managed to dig up a couple of fights.

Opinions clashed on the platform, despite the fact it was written in Washington. As originally conceived, the platform avoided any criticism of the supreme court, and avoided any specific commitment to

Seek To Save Trees On Street Being Paved

Council met in city hall today and was requested by a resident of Raymond street to save trees there that may be removed by the paving. The cartway will be paved 24 feet wide which means, it was pointed out, that most of the trees will be lost. If a 22 feet paving was laid the trees could be saved, it was explained.

The original ordinance calls for a 50 foot street with a cartway of 24 feet. Council plans to view the street. If they decide upon a 22 foot cartway an ordinance must be passed to the effect that paving of this width be laid.

Democratic Chairman Attacks Supreme Court In Convention Speech

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Another stiff attack on the supreme court by Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, served further notice on delegates to the Democratic convention today that, even though they fail to write a constitutional amendment plank into their platform, the Roosevelt high command intends to make the high tribunal's recent decisions a campaign issue.

Following the lead set by President Roosevelt himself at Little Rock, Ark., two weeks ago, and Keynoting-Senator Alben W. Barkley, Robinson assailed the supreme court rulings that invalidated important portions of the New Deal.

The convention chairman also assailed the Republican candidacy of Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, praised President Roosevelt for his action in taking the United States off the gold standard, and defended in toto the policies and activities of the administration.

References To Court

But his references to the supreme court interested political observers most. It has been widely reported,

ARREST MAN ON THEFT CHARGES

Perry Township Man Held On Charges Of Theft Of Cow, And Holdup

Kenneth White, 31, farmer of Perry township vicinity is held in the county jail by state police pending an investigation of several alleged thefts, one of which concerns the larceny of a cow and a holdup with a tin pistol marked "G-man" according to Officer in Charge J. J. Hennicheck.

Hennicheck said that White was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland and Trooper Ralph Mears after an investigation of the theft of a cow owned by R. H. Kirk, Ellwood City, R. D. 7. Hartland and Mears traced the cow to Pittsburgh. They found the cow after visiting 52 cow-pens and returned the bovine to Kirk. The state police claim White confessed the theft of the cow.

Hennicheck also said that White confessed entering the barn of Walter Leisey, Wayne township, on the night of June 20. Leisey's back was to White, it was alleged, and White poked a "G-man" tin pistol against Leisey's back and took from his person a pocketbook with about $8, then fled. The state police and Hartland got the "G-man" tin revolver.

The officers are investigating the theft of a cow at Edenburg and also one at Harlansburg, Hennicheck stated.

All plans for the third annual Tin Mill Day, to be held Saturday, June 27, have been completed, according to Harry Davies, general chairman, and the only thing necessary now is to get good weather. With good weather the picnic will far outstrip the two previous picnics held, as big as they were.

A number of officials of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation are expected to be present for the picnic. D. A. Barrett, vice president, will be here, as will Ross M. Loeffler, manager of industrial relations, W. T. Hugus, assistant manager of industrial relations; R. D. Saylor, assistant manager of operations, and Jess Slagle. William C. Oberg, manager of operations will be here if it is possible. Many former New Castle tin workers will be back for the day coming from Sharon Farrell Aliquippa Pittsburgh Youngstown Warren and other industrial cities.

Starts With Parade

The day's events start with a huge parade which will form on Hamilton street and move out at ten o'clock. From Hamilton street the line of march will be over Long avenue to Mill, Mill to Grove, Grove to East Washington, East Washington to Jefferson and thence past the reviewing stand which will be located near the First Methodist church. The parade will disband on Falls street.

Eighteen floats are already entered in the parade and more are expected. Grand Marshal Clark H.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—In a routine operation that took only seven minutes, physicians at the celebrated bronchoscopic clinic of Temple university hospital today removed a wire nail from the left lung of three-year-old Kelvin Rogers of Melbourne, Australia.

With his journey-weary mother, Mrs. Marjorie Rogers, the blond-haired, chubby youngster arrived in this city late yesterday after a 9000-mile trip from his native land. MADISON, Me., June 25. — A boy and a girl began a new life based on crushing tragedy today.

Abrogation Of Two Thirds Rule Seems Certain

Rules Committee Of Democratic Convention Votes In Favor Of Abrogation

MAJORITY RULE TO BE SUBSTITUTED

Expect Convention To Ratify Abrogation Of Two-Thirds Nomination Rule Tonight

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The Democratic convention's rules committee today voted abrogation of the century-old convention rule which requires a two-thirds vote to nominate a presidential candidate.

Ratification of the committee action, placing the party on majority rule, was expected by the full convention later in the day, although southern delegates planned to carry their losing fight to the floor.

The vote to abrogate was 36 to 13.

New York Opposes

Three northern states—including the great vote-polling empire of New York—created a stunning surprise by voting with the minority.

Rep. John O'Connor of New York cast that state's vote with the minority.

Indiana and Massachusetts also were numbered with the state voting against nullification of the old-two-thirds rule.

By viva voce vote, however, it was decided to name a sub-committee of seven to draft some method of future representation which might be acceptable generally, and for the sub-committee to report back at 3 p. m.

The thirteen states voting in committee to retain the two-thirds rule were Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Indiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Not present or voting were Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska and Nevada.

South Not Solid

The South was not "solid" in its opposition to majority rule. Louisiana, North Carolina, Kentucky, Arkansas and Oklahoma were among those voting against the two-thirds rule.

The convention voting strength of the states voting was 680 to 352.

After the two-thirds rule was killed, Beeman Strong, Texas, pressed

Then gone from the scene will be keynotes and chairmen with gavels in hand, and peace will come down like a blanket and cover a speech burndened land. And gone will be platform committeees who say what the party will do, then life will be one round of pleasure, the weather is warm, eighty two.

Perishable Goods Held In Port As Result Of Seamen's Strike

BLUM SEEKING TO FORCE TIEUP END

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 25—With hundreds of thousands of francs' worth of perishable goods consigned to Algeria rotting in the holds of ships held up by 8,000 striking sailors in Marseilles Harbor, politically-torn France today was isolated from her African colonial empire.

Seamen accompanying their proclamations of "Soviets everywhere," with whistle blasts remained in occupation of 68 red-flagged vessels in spite of an agreement for shorter hours and more pay reported to have been forced on ship owners by the "popular front" government last night.

Algerian merchants, already facing a shortage of supplies, unsuccessfully appealed to socialist Premier Leon Blum to commander vessels to keep trans-Mediterranean trade routes open, while sea captains warned that the sailors were guilty of mutiny and must assume responsibility of any damage to the ships.

Scoring Premier Blum's edict that "no reoccupation of factories will be tolerated in the future," strikers again "folded arms" in several factories around Paris, while 400 men "besieged" the Turbine factory at Loire-Saint-Denis.

Committees which will arrange the August 19 outing will be named within a very short time, Mr. Butz said.

Old Timers' Day outings for New Castle and out-of-town residents have come to be one of Cascade's largest all-day celebrations. Many former residents are expected to return this year for the program.

The pageant-type of program of former years will be dropped this year and another type of entertainment substituted, it was announced today.

A detailed list of the other athletic events follow this article.

Expect Huge Crowd

Tin Mill Day in New Castle is not confined to the men and women who work in the mills. It is New Castle's big community day and everybody physically able to do so tries to get to Cascade Park some time during the afternoon or evening. Dancing will be free in the afternoon.

An automobile, a washing machine, an ironer, a radio, and a score of other valuable gifts will be handed out. The gifts are now on display in the windows of the Sporting Goods Store. DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN IN COURT ATTACK without affirmation or denial, that Mr. Roosevelt intends to appoint the senate majority leader to the first vacancy that occurs on the high court.

Mentioning invalidation of the National Recovery Act, Agricultural Adjustment Act and the Guffey Coal Act as decisions which "have had the effect of slowing up recovery," Robinson asserted:

"In spite of these decisions the American people are going forward.

"We do not regard the court as above and beyond those factors and causes which naturally influence the minds of human beings.

"Whatever may be the just basis of difference of opinion respecting other decisions, the bar of the United States overwhelmingly repudiates the denial by the supreme court of the power to regulate maximum hours and minimum wages.

"Everyone, including those sagacious politicians who until recently sought partisan advantage by praising our highest judicial tribunal for upsetting various features of the national recovery program, now seeks concurrence in a plan to overcome a decision, which, they say, if permitted to stand will prove oppressive."

On Monetary Issue

On the monetary issue, he stated: "Candidate Landon's declaration on the subject evades the issue. Gov. Landon did not dare advocate an immediate return to the gold standard.

"Had we remained on the gold standard the government would have been compelled to face a demand for monetary inflation which would have been irresistible."

Maintaining that the Republican platform calls for immediate balancing of the budget without additional taxes, by simply reducing expenditures, Robinson declared:

"To balance the budget promptly would be to terminate at once all relief. Do the American people wish to deny all assistance from the national government to workers who are out of employment?"

The senator took issue with the Republicans on war-debt collection. It was the Hoover administration, he charged, that declared the moratorium which made collection impossible.

WPA was defended as a sound institution even though "some mistakes" and "some politics" had crept into its administration.

ADMINISTRATION PRAISE FEATURES PARTY PLATFORM

their deliberations at 5 A. M., under an agreement to meet again at 11 o'clock. This was the hour at which the full committee previously was scheduled to meet to approve the subcommittee's recommendations. It meant there would be some delay in getting the tentative platform, but convention leaders predicted the final document would be ready for presentation to the convention at 8 o'clock tonight.

Rumors leaking out of the platform session reported the president would ask re-election chiefly upon a defense of his present inter-national program and a general defense of his economic policies, with the single deviation to an endorsement of the payment of "prevailing wages" upon relief projects. This meant his international program would pledge specific approval of reciprocal trade treaties, his "good neighbor" program toward the rest of the American continent and a promise of "moral support" to the rest of the world in the prevention of war.

To Defend Program

On economic matters, the platform will defend the administration's relief program, pledge federal aid to the starving, demand business take up the slack in employment, promise a continuance of the WPA, and oppose decentralization of federal relief. This latter declaration will be in direct contrast to the Republican declaration in favor of state control of relief.

On fiscal affairs, the platform will promise a balanced budget and sound money. There was a sharp division of opinion in the subcommittee on the subject of declaring against a return to the gold standard. One group of liberal Democrats favored this declaration. Another group favored a declaration for sound currency "based upon gold and silver." A third group desired silence on this question, so as not to provoke a direct monetary issue with the Republicans.

This plank also declared for a stabilized dollar, which would give debtors and creditors equal treatment in the future.

Silent On Constitution

The tentative platform was silent about an amendment to the constitution. A small group, which demanded a declaration for a constitutional amendment, "when and if needed," to regulate wages and hours of labor, was out-voted in the subcommittee. The decision however may be reversed in the full committee. Although there was no indication this issue would be taken to the floor of the convention.

One member of the subcommittee said:

"There was no real discussion of a constitutional amendment."

The monopoly issue, raised by the Republicans, was met with a forceful plank. It reiterated previous Democratic denunciations of monopoly, pledged the full strength of the government to stamp our monopolistic tendencies in private industry and pointed with pride to the administration's constant assault upon power interests.

All other planks were consistent with the Roosevelt administration's record. The platform was short. One subcommittee member said it could be "read in twenty minutes."

Tells What Has Been Done

"It is a good platform," observed Senator Walsh (D) of Massachusetts, another subcommittee member. "It tells a lot of things the Democratic administration has done."

Besides Walsh, the subcommitte included Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, chairman; Justice Norman L. Jones of Illinois; Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama; Senator Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio; Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina; Walter Walker of Colorado; Senator Carl A. Hatch of New Mexico; J. Stitt Wilson of California; Senator Joseph G. O'Mahoney of Wyoming; Wayne Coy of Indiana, and Frank Murphy, commissioner general of the Philippines.

Seek To Avoid Floor Battle

Philadelphia, June 25.—Democratic platform makers, desperately anxious to avoid a convention floor fight, struggled today to placate opposing factions on the issue of a constitutional amendment giving states power to enact minimum wage laws for women.

A compromise plan which, it was stated authoritatively, has been placed before President Roosevelt, called for governmental regulation of wages and hours with implications that a constitutional amendment will be sought if necessary.

Despite the optimistic predictions of Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, chairman of the platform committee, the party plans on the wage question, farm relief and money aroused keen controversy among delegates.

Southern forces fought against an outright declaration for a constitutional amendment, fearful that the issue might split the south.

The Roosevelt forces also were reluctant to make an outright declaration. Only recently President Roosevelt declared that the New Deal can accomplishe its objectives within the constitution.

KUERNER-PEARSALL WEDDING AT ERIE

Dignified and most impressive was the wedding which took place Wednesday, June 24, in the Lutheran Memorial church at Erie, when Miss Charlotte M. Kuerner, youngest daughter of George Kuerner, of 914 West 10th street, Erie, became the bride of Otto Henry Pearsall, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Pearsall, 314 Norwood avenue, New Castle.

The vows were pledged before a large assembly of guests of the popular couple at high noon, against a background of salmon pink gladioli and light blue delphinium, outlined in green foliage which concealed the church altar. The Rev. E. Maclay Gearhart, pastor, officiated with the single ring service, and further impressiveness was added with the program of nuptial music, contributed by the church organist. The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, was included in her selections.

The bride's dark beauty was enhanced with her turquoise heavy silk dress of street length, caught at the high neckline with a cluster of gardenias and baby's breath. A long tunic jacket and a white wide-brimmed hat completed her ensemble, and she wore with it white accompaniments.

Miss Charlotte Melhorn, of Erie, chum of the bride, was maid of honor, and was attired in a tailored pink lace creation with white accessories and white wide-brimmed hat. Her dainty corsage of pink roses and forget-me-nots, encircled the high neckline of her ensemble.

Carl Graham, of Darlington, served the groom as best man.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lewis A. Pearsall, was stunning in a heavy white silk dress, with jacket embroidered in orchid and green in clever design, and she wore with it an orchid hat with wide brim, with two-tone orchid band about the crown.

Following a short congratulatory period, a wedding breakfast was served at the Shrine club of Erie, to guests numbering twenty-one. The bridal table was adorned with a wedding cake flanked with garden flowers, and individual china baskets combined with tiny town miniature dolls. These contained dainty pink roses and blue corn flowers and were given as favors.

Mr. Pearsall and his bride left later in the afternoon on a motor trip to Canada, and upon their return, will take up residence at 418 Sumner avenue, New Castle. For traveling she chose a navy ensemble with an all white jacket and white accessories.

The bride, one of the prominent members of the younger social set of the lake city, was graduated from Strong Vincent high school, Westminster College, at New Wilmington, and also received her diploma from the Erie Conservatory of Music. Mr. Pearsall graduated from New Castle high in the year of '29 and from Westminster College in '34, and is a member of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity. He is now associated in business with his father in this city.

Since the news of their betrothal was revealed to their host of friends, a number of showers and parties have been given in their honor.

Among the hostesses who presided at these various events, includes her maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Melhorn, and the Misses Phyllis Adams, Ruth Gordon and Betty Benson, of Erie. The young couple have received a large number of magnificent gifts, testifying to the esteem which they are held.

Guests from this city who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Pearsall, parents of the groom, and his younger brother, Lewis A. Pearsall, Jr., Miss Dorothy Patch and Mrs. Rex Patch.

BREATHING SPELL FOR NATION

SIX months of political maneuvering, resulting in extravagant spending and increased domination and control of private enterprise, characterize the second session of the 74th congress which is now adjourned. Never has a congress spent more money; seldom has one enacted less beneficial legislation.

When congress convened last January, President Roosevelt pointed out that his new deal aims had been accomplished, that no new revenue—based on existing laws—would be needed or even advisable and he indicated that the work before both houses would be accomplished within a comparatively short time.

But the presidential promise of a brief, uneventful session did not develop. Instead, a major portion of the six months was occupied by consideration of the gigantic tax measure designed to raise some $800,000,000 by a new system of levies upon corporations. The rest of the time was occupied in the hurried passage of appropriation measures which allocated some $9,000,000,000 of public funds and raised the public debt to an all-time peak.

The first session of the 74th congress appropriated $9,579,756,510, which was slightly outdistanced by the $9,716,430,863 of appropriations during the second session. The total for both sessions was $19,296,187,373, an all-time record for a peacetime as well as a wartime congress.

Consider these spending measures: $1,730,000,000 for the soldiers' bonus; $1,425,000,000 for relief; $1,100,000,000 to the army and navy; $440,,000,000 for the new soil conservation service; $296,000,000 to liquidate contracts invalidated when the supreme court ruled the AAA unconstitutional; $308,000,000 for the CCC and $459,000,000 to finance the new social security programme.

Freed of their legislative worries, members of the lower house and one-third of the senators will start immediately to mend their political fences and campaign for re-election in the fall. It is well for the nation that congress has adjourned. Its sessions create a tension and suspense which tends to retard industrial recovery. During the next four months, charged as they will be with political activity, the nation is well relieved of the disturbing influence of congress.

There is reason to rejoice that congress has adjourned.

THE STAY AT HOMES

This may be the vacation and travel season, but the majority of Americans are stay-at-homes from necessity, and do not feel able to do much traveling. Some of them feel resentful, as they see the shiny automobiles roll by and the fast trains wind through the landscape, and think they are not having their fair share of the fun of life.

But the world's wisest men will tell them that the best things of life are found near home. Henry D. Thoreau, world famous philosopher, said: "Beauty is neither here nor there, not in Rome or Athens, but wherever there is a soul to admire it. If I seek her elsewhere because I do not find her at home, my search will be fruitless."

The sky and the sunsets are beautiful in North America as they are in Switzerland. The grass and the trees are as green and the flowers as bright, as in the romantic scenes of France.

As for the pleasures that make life interesting, if people can't find them where they are, it is to be doubted if they can find them anywhere.

People travel thousands of miles to see things no more beautiful than can be found within an automobile ride of a few miles from New Castle.

It's a fine thing to wander if you can afford it, but all the best fruits of life can be found within a few miles of your own home.

THE NEUTRALITY PROBLEM REMAINS

President Roosevelt's removal of the arms and financial embargoes in recognition of the ending of the Italo-Ethiopian war does not imply official recognition of the annexation effected by Mussolini nor does it affect existing neutrality legislation, which embodies a new policy regarding this difficult problem.

The president's action is also independent of the prospective abandonment of the European collective sanctions against Italy. His proclamation of the embargoes and his lifting of the restrictions were alike dictated by the law. Throughout the imbroglio the United States pursued its own distinctive policy, directed to absolute neutrality and avoidance of being drawn into the quarrel.

Thus far the record is clear and America can afford to disregard the criticisms which came from both sides. But this is not to say that the new neutrality legislation is satisfactory and should be perpeuated. In some respects it gave the president too much leeway. In others it may have limited his freedom of action so as to prevent prompt and complete dealing with emergencies. The state department at one time threatened to involve this nation in embarrassments.

There was no real test of the neutrality legislation. The purpose which prompted it was the keeping of America out of another war. There is great need for a new neutrality law, framed after due consideration and not under the pressure of a threatened emergency. But it also must have as its first consideration the protection of this country from the horrors of warfare, by insuring that our citizens shall not become entangled through dealings with belligerents or commit acts that may menace neutral relations.

Another thing that gets a rest during a vacation is your dignity.

Between now and October 1 don't slap anyone on the back. This is the open season for sunburn.

The Convenient Earth.

More Blind Mice.

Better Days for Lawyers.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

PARIS, June 25.—Four o'clock in the afternoon in Paris is 11 a. m. in New York. Convenient for one who must write as he travels and make a newspaper deadline in New York. Writing from San Francisco or Seattle it is the other way. Four o'clock in the Far West means seven o'clock in New York, or eight o'clock in daylight saving time. In London and Paris the convenient difference is five hours. That idea of having the earth go around the sun was a good one for newspaper men traveling East.

ON CROSSING we encountered one or two dull wet days, the sky almost touching the water, barely room and "vision for a Mother Carey's chicken between waves" and ceiling. But such weather will not affect ocean flying, soon to come. A little distance above that grey ceiling, only six miles up, the sun shines always. No fog, cloud or rain or storms; a gentle perpetual eastward wind, caused by the earth's rotation. Up where the atmosphere is thin and high speeds will be easy, the ideal travel lane has been waiting for man a very long time.

The learned Doctors Wilkins and Rayton, physicists of Rochester University, judging by the transformation of uranium into lead, assure you that two thousand five hundred million years have passed since a small piece broke away from the sun and became "the earth."

NO STORMY ATMOSPHERE when you go up a little way. No stormy waters when you sink a short distance below the surface waves. All quiet down there; no deep sea fish ever saw a wave.

Goethe said, "on all high peaks there is peace." There is peace at great depths also. All the storm and trouble is reserved for the thin round slice of earth, water and air in which man struts, frets, sails and flies his little hour and is seen no more.

THE PARIS COURT has indicted seven dealers in foodstuffs for increasing prices. They take that more seriously in France than we do in America. Since a famous French wheat corner long ago, the punishment for conspiring to raise the price of wheat in France is prison aux travaux forces. A kind of hard labor that would discourage some of our racketeer big shots. In spite of his good intentions, Joseph, who engineered the wheat deal for Pharoah, would have gone to jail had he been a Frenchman.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION in Cleveland sang, to the tune of "Three Blind Mice," a song about "Three Long Years," describing many sorrows between 1933 and 1936.

Mr. V. Y. Dallman, delegate-at-large to the Democratic convention in Philadelphia, editor of the Illinois State Register, sends to Postmaster Farley a reply to the Republican "Three Long Years" song. His song title is "Twelve Long Years", sung to the same tune of "Three Blind Mice"; it begins:

"They called us donkey-braying cranks,
But all they gave to win our thanks
Was bathtub gin and busted banks
For twelve long years."

THE WAY IT IS

An artist has an idea for a drawing.

Let us suppose it is a cartoon on this page.

He sits and thinks about it, plans its arrangement, gets out his clean, white paper and his pens, goes to work. Probably he pencils it in, then inks it.

Then it goes to the engraving room....First it it photographed. And etched on metal. And the metal cut is prepared for the composing room.

Next it moves out to the flat form, where this page is made up. Sometimes the newspaper is printed directly from this cut, from this type you are reading...But not usually these days.

In most cases the metal form is locked and lifted onto a heavy metal table and a soft, square of cardboard is placed on it...Then it is moved under a powerful roller, under pressure, and that cardboard takes the imprint of every letter, every line of the drawing.

The cardboard, or "mat", goes downstairs, where it is placed in a machine into which liquid metal flows and out comes a half-cylinder, about an inch in thickness, of the shape you'd get if you sliced in half one of those old-fashioned cylindrical phonograph records.

The half-cylinder is locked onto a press as big as a two-story house. ....It purrs, growls, roars and out comes your newspaper with your artist's idea translated into line and ink and paper.

What a lot of work, what a lot of activity before that artist's idea for one cartoon appears in the paper before your eyes!

He looks at it and if he's like the artists I know he says to himself:

"That's terrible! I could have done it a lot better than that!"

That's the way you are, too.... You have great ambitions. You carry them through the roaring press of life. Then you look at yourself and say you ought to be a lot wiser, stronger than you are...Don't cry about it....You tried and it was well worth doing.

An inquirer wants to know if a property owner is responsible when a low hanging limb of a tree in front of his place injures or puts out an eye of a person walking under it. TODAY'S STORYETTE

Two stews went to see a wrestling match. They found their seats all right and then did their best to see the stage, where the giant athletes were tossing each other about rather roughly.

Finally one of the wrestlers lifted his opponent bodily, held him on his shoulders for a moment and then slammed him down on the floor. These acrobatics went on for some little time—maybe half an hour.

Then again the same wrestler picked up the other, as he had before, balanced him on his shoulder, and bang!—down he went on the mat again.

At this point one of the stews out front turned to his companion:

"Come on—hic," he said, "let's—hic—go. This is—hic—where we came in."

EARLY BRIDGES

The first bridges were of wood, and the earliest of which we have any account was built in Rome 500 years B. C. The next was erected by Julius Caesar for the passage of his army across the Rhine. Trajan's great bridge over the Danube, 4770 feet long, was made of timber, with stone piers. The Romans also built the first stone bridge, which crossed the Tiber. Suspension bridges are of remote origin. A Chinese one mentioned by Kirchen, made of chains supporting a roadway 830 feet in length, was built A. D. 65, and is still to be seen. The first large iron bridge was erected over the Severn in 1777.

DEAR MISS MARKEL: This Summer, I shall make my first trip to a seaside resort, and stay at a hotel. Please advise me what I should take with me—in the way of bathing attire, clothes, etc.—Hazel

Answer: If possible, take two bathing suits, that you may always have a dry one to wear. You will, of course, need a rubber cap and slippers and a beach robe or pajamas to protect you from too much sun and to keep you from being chilled after your swim.

Summer sports clothes—string knitted, linen, pique or silk dresses and white sports shoes will be very comfortable and appropriate for wear while having breakfast and luncheon at the otel, as well as during the strolls on the boardwalk.

During the latter activity, you will find a large, "floppy" hat indispensable for keeping the sun's glare out of your eyes.

You may have some stormy weather during you trip, so you should be prepared for it by including an ensemble suitable in color and weight for cool, rainy days.

A few afternoon dresses with suitable shoes, about two hats and evening clothes (if you expect to have use for them) should complete your wardrobe.

Democrats To Be Liberal.
Lemke Ticket Worries Dems.
Warning For Republicans.

Central Press Headquarters, Democratic Convention
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Yes, the Democratic platform will be far ahead of the Republican platform, in liberal thinking. The Democratic platform naturally will uphold the New Deal and point a way.

But, ten years hence, we may be looking back with a cynical, tolerant smile on the anachronism of even the liberal platform of today.

"NOT WORRIED"

Political leaders in Philadelphia assert they are not worried over the candidacy of Representative William Lemke of North Dakota on a third party ticket.

Yet they do considerable talking in proving they are not worried.

As a matter of fact, however, Lemke has little pulling power, and a third party will find it difficult to get on the ballot.

But a third party with real pulling power is in the making.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, sat in the senate gallery when the substitute Guffey coal bill was lost—and, grimly, he probably concluded there was no further hope with either old party. If ever his industrial unions unite with the farmers—as is probable by 1940—then we shall have a formidable third party, a balance of power that may sway the nation.

G. O. P. DANGER

If the Republicans chortle in glee over elements rising now to hamper the Democrats, they may live to regret the day.

Some Democrats believe that Republicans may put forth minor "new party" figures to divide the vote, then try to step into power and bear down on everybody. That was the procedure used by some of the present European dictators in gaining power.

But it would be dangerous for the Republicans to aid in the creation of a third powerful group. People are waiting for just such a group. It might become such a mighty force, it could destroy the Republican and Democratic parties in the process.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WEAK-HEARTED WILL FORBEAR

Impossible as it sounds, it is now very easy, with the aid of powerful binoculars, to experience a fatal automobile crash without dying or even being injured!

Credit for this latest suggestion for curbing traffic accidents goes to Earle S. O'Day, of Santa Barbara, California. On an eight-mile stretch of road, part of which was through a city, O'Day says he experienced, with the aid of an eight-power glass, the following accidents: Killing nine pedestrians, wrecking one house at a curve, colliding head-on at forty-five miles an hour with six oil trucks, crashing through the railing of a bridge, and catapulting down a precipice.

Persons with weak hearts are cautioned not to use binoculars in a rapidly moving automobile for more than a minute at a time. To experience death in an automobile without dying one should know how to focus the binoculars quickly.

Don't try to drive and experiment with glasses, but as a front seat passenger hold the glasses to the eyes and peer ahead on the highway. The first thrill comes from rear-end collisions with vehicles going in the same direction. While still ten yards behind the car you are about to pass, it suddenly looms up within a foot of your radiator. Only the greatest will power keeps you from dropping the glasses and throwing up your arms to protect your face from flying fragments.

If the driver, at a distance of some hundreds of yards from an approaching truck turns very slightly to the left, the appearance through the glass is as though a head-on collision were inescapable. Driving down a step hill is like shooting down a precipice. If the road is rolling the sensation is more exciting than riding a roller coaster. Each potential hazard along the highway, in brief, is magnified many times.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS

Still am I heedless of the garb I wear;
Still do I drop my papers on the floor
And toss my coat upon the Bishop's chair
Which stands so reverently by the door.

Still do I strew my garments round about
For her to find and neatly put away,
Still am I leaving bureau drawers drawn out
As if to close them I'd no time to stay.

Still am I shouting down the stairs for aid
To find the things which in plain sight appears.
I show no sign of betterment I've made
For such devotion after thirty years.

Still is she patient; still she shakes her head
And smiles at cares that should be cause for tears.
You'd never guess, so lightly time has sped,
She has put up with me for thirty years.

Pennsylvania Had 155 Deaths During May, New Check Shows

MOST OF TRAGEDIES BETWEEN 5-6 P. M.

Automobile crashes on Pennsylvania highways during May were more numerous than in April and more persons were killed and injured, it was reported today by the bureau of highway patrol and safety of the state's department of revenue.

The greatest number of accidents occurred, figures showed, between the hours of 5 and 6 p. m. with the next greatest number was between 4 and 5 p. m. Saturday was high in the number of wrecks reported with Sunday second and Friday showing the third highest total.

The number of accidents involving a collision with railroad trains increased approximately 100 percent over April.

Of the number of operators involved in accidents approximately 1.6 percent were apparently intoxicated, 16.6 percent were inattentive while 73.5 percent were apparently normal. Driving too fast for conditions and driving on the wrong side of the road are still two of the major operator's violations.

A total of 4,132 accidents were reported for May, as against 2,905 in April, an increase of 29.7 percent. The number killed was 90 in April as compared to 155 in May, an increase of 41.9 percent, and the number injured for May was 3675, against 2644 for April, an increase of 28.1 percent.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Manhattan Daguerrotypes: Sully is a private policeman. He's fifty, wears a gray-blue uniform and a badge, "Special Policeman". He carries a .45 automatic in a holster but he has never had to use it.

He plods back and forth after midnight in front of one of the big town houses. Most of the time his boss is away, in Europe or Florida or somewhere. There's only the house and its contents to guard—some art treasures, silver, things like that.

Sully likes his boss. He knows that the big man started from scratch and accumulated his fortune in a world of savage envy and fierce competition. Sully has intelligence enough to know that he is handsomely paid for the work he does. He feels no envy of his boss.

During the elevator strike a couple of pickets, for no reason Sully has been able to fathom except that his uniform allied him with the forces of decency and order, crept up from behind and slugged him. That's his single collision with violence in ten years as a private cop.

But he imagines his work is adventurous, glamorous, romantic. Over a beer, on his day off, he will tell you that he narrowly escaped a humdrum career. He had a chance once, in his youth, to go to some 'crazy island a million miles away" as a clerk for a copra importing company.

"There was no action in that job," he says. "I'm a man of action, a sort of adventurer, so I turned it down. Thank goodness I had the sense."

Mabel is chambermaid for one of the old-line theatrical hotels near Times Square. She has had the same job for nineteen years. Of late she has become a bit garrulous and will talk to the guests if they give her half a chance.

"It was back in 1920 when it happened. Maybe 1919. Anyway John Bunny, the famous movie comedian, stayed right here in this hotel on this floor. I remember, because he gave me a dollar as a tip.

"He was sick at the time. Had heart trouble or something. Remember? He died a little later. And you know what he said to me? He said, 'A girl with a face like yours ought to be in movies. You've got the funniest face I ever saw.'

"And then he gave me a slip of paper with his name written on it. Said if I came around to one of the movie studios—right here near New York, too—he'd see that I got a job. Well, he died and so nothing came of it. I guess my face isn't so funny as it was then. I was young. But I might be in the movies if he had lived, mightn't I?"

Luke is a college graduate. One of the honor men of his class. He's change-man in one of the Broadway pin-marble and bagatelle emporiums. He likes the work.

"Some day I'm going to own one of these places myself," he will tell you. "I never wanted to go to college, but I did it to please my parents. They're dead now so it doesn't matter. I can do what I want to do.

"Say, there's a million dollars in these nickel-snatchers. I did learn some stuff in school that will help in my career. I'm inventing a new pin-marble board that uses trigonometry. It's a wow. It'll be the biggest thing in the business when it comes out."

42 YEARS A FIREMAN

SALEM, Mass.—Charles W. Getchell, 74, retired letter carrier, is New England's No. 1 "fire spark". Getchell, who gave 42 years to Uncle Sam, has been a member of the Salem Veteran Firemen's association since 1882. His grandfather was captain of Engine No. 1 "Reliance" in 1853 and his father was captain of the same engine in 1888.

On Court House Hill

Attorney J. Clyde Gilfillan has issued a writ of foreign attachment against Gordon J. and Elsie M. Brownlee in which the sheriff is directed to attach goods and chattels, and particularly land in Union township of David and Minnie Clayton, and summon them as garnishees.

The Beaver County Building & Loan Association has filed a writ of scire facias against Anna Cenderbeck, Mary Fox, Thomas Majors and William Majors, heirs of Bridget Majors. The writ is based on a mortgage given on land in Wayne township in January, 1929, for $1500, and on which it is claimed there is now due $1617.93.

Limitation of the "quantity of power that can be abused" in government is urged by the Pennsylvania Bar association, in a convention, which a number of New Castle attorneys are now attending at Bedford Springs. The report of the committee on Federal law says: "No government can ever be anything more than men wielding power over men. We must limit the quantity of power that can be abused, whether that power is in the hands of bankers, generals, business men or politicians. Otherwise we shall surely lose what little freedom remains to us."

In the list of properties which are to be sold by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard on Monday, July 6, are seven foreclosures by the Home Owners Loan corporation. At least one property on which there was a Home Owners loan has been previously foreclosed. The properties which are to be sold on July 6 are those on which the persons who secured the loans have fallen down completely in their payments. The corporation has been lenient with those who have been making an honest effort to pay. The government does not want their properties and will continue to carry them as long as they are trying to meet their payments, it is announced, but when all efforts are apparently abandoned that limit has been reached so far as the Home Owners Loan corporation is concerned. The corporation has helped many people to save their properties, and in most cases this help has been appreciated and payments are being kept up.

An opinion handed down by Judge Frank E. Reader of Beaver county will be of interest here. Judge Reader held that penalties on taxes prior to 1935 are to be abated in sheriff sales. The case was that of a mortgage foreclosure by the Woodlawn Trust company against Lebanon Mardites of Aliquippa. The trust company bid in the property for the amount of the sheriff's costs and taxes, including the penalties. The law says penalties are to be abated if the 1935 taxes are paid in full, and Judge Reader, in the first opinion yet rendered on the new act, holds that it applies to properties sold at sheriff sale. In the list of properties to be sold by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard on July 6 there are back taxes against practically all of the properties, which under this ruling, would be subject to abatements.

County commissioners are asking for new bids on the improvements to be made on the West Washington street bridge. When the day for opening bids came following the first advertisement for bids, there was only one bid presented. The commissioners beleived that there should be competition, so decided to reject this bid and readvertise. The job is a rather difficult one to figure, as like all repair jobs, it is hard to tell what a workman may run into until he actually gets to work. The commissioners are hoping that more than one bid will be submitted under the readvertisement.

A charter has been granted to the Ellwood City Finance company, capital stock, $10,000. Incorporators are F. E. Moore, J. I. Porter and D. A. Evans. The business of the company will be that of financing loans.

"SEEST THOU a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings"—money kings at least.

The late Nathan Burkan, lawyer and Tammany leader, died young, but his widow and little boy will get a million and a half. To some lawyers that seems small. Louis Levy once got two million dollars in one fee, fortunately before the big income tax days.

A distinguished lawyer, formerly in the cabinet of the United States, charged and got two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for reading through and approving, without change, one trust paper prepared by the late R. W. De Forest.

The great Rufus Choate, in more modest days, apologized for charging twenty-five hundred dollars, saying he had studied the problem for 30 years.

Grand Army Aides Lead Encampment

Few Civil War Survivors Have Honor Place At Lycoming Sessions

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 25.—The Grand Army of the Republic opened its 70th annual encampment with younger affiliated organizations leading the convention activities.

They reserved a place of honor, however, at all sessions for the few survivors of the Civil War who came to the encampment to live again the days they fought for the Union.

More than 1000 delegates of the Sons of Union Veterans and four other auxiliary organizations were registered for the convention.

The federated patriotic society elected Jacob Wenzel, of the Sons of Union Veterans, as president. Other officers include: Alena S. Kuhlfise, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, vice president; Katherine Joyce, auxiliary to Sons of Union Veterans, secretary, and Mrs. Mame Smith, Women's Relief Corps, treasurer.

MANY DOGS KILLED IN RABIES DRIVE

HARRISBURG.—Agents of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture have destroyed 1021 dogs in Montgomery, Delaware and Bucks counties since rabies quarantines were established there by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Only forty-one of these dogs carried license tags, Secretary J. Hansell French reports.

Thirty-seven rabid dogs were officially reported in the State last month. State officers destroyed 362 uncontrolled dogs in the quarantined territory in May.

Air Travel Shows Heavy Increase

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY.—Mounting public acceptance of the air as a medium of travel and shipment of cargoes is indicated, TWA officials point out, in extraordinary increases of business during the first five months of the year.

The passenger increase was 32.4 per cent over the same period last year; volume of mail handled was 38.3 per cent more; and express, 42.9 per cent.

Contributing factors to the remarkable rise were listed by John B. Walker, vice-president in charge of traffic, as improvements in service, reductions in air travel rates through the introduction of script and readjusted fares, and reduction in travel time across the country.

O. E. S. CHAPTER NO. 105 OUTING FINE SUCCESS

Despite the fact that the weather man couldn't quite make up his mind as to whether he should shine brightly on Wednesday evening about supper time, or whether to pour down rain, it didn't interfer in any way with the success of the annual picnic outing conducted by members of New Castle Chapter No. 105, Order of the Eastern Star, at Cascade park. Mrs. Margaret Whieldon is worthy matron of the chapter.

It was estimated that approximately a hundred and fifty were in attendance and at 6:30 o'clock, a bountiful tureen menu was served in the grove at sheltered tables arranged by the committees in charge. Miss Martha Bigley was general chairman, and she had as aides Mrs. Margaret Hammond who had charge of the menu, and Mrs. Bessie Coates Pitzer, bingo chairman, with their appointed assistants co-operating splendidly. The entire affair rolled along smoothly "without a hitch, and each of the participants voted it one of the most enjoyable functions ever undertaken. Ice cream and coffee was provided by the chapter.

In climaxing the occasion, their worthy matron, Mrs. Whieldon offered a handsome guest prize with Mrs. Anne Harris being the lucky winner. The latter and numerous others were fortunate in winning awards to the bingo contests which held sway immediately after the tables were cleared. The kiddies present, joined in this feature instead of entering into the usual program of races, and each was given balloons and other amusing novelties, as an added attraction.

Upon leaving the grove, the park amusements were enjoyed and the assembly who wound up the evening with a program of dancing at the pavilion.

SECTION TWO AT MONGOMERY HOME

Members of Section Two of the First Christian church gathered Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. W. H. Montgomery at Walmo. A short business session was conducted at which time plans were completed for a picnic to be held in Cascade Park on Wednesday, July 29.

Two special guests, Miss Peggy Clarke and Miss Martha Holbrook, enjoyed the festivities of the afternoon. The picnic on July 29 will take the place of the next regular meeting.

Al Smith Having Own Convention

(International News Service)

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., June 25.—Having definitely decided against making an appearance at the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia, former Governor Alfred E. Smith today was having a "convention" of his own here.

The delegates consisted of Smith's wife and all his grandchildren. The scene of the "convention" is the inn at Southampton. The former governor declared he would remain here until Monday.

Smith arrived here yesterday while reports were current in New York that he would make a surprise appearance in Philadelphia to make a personal appeal to the delegates to repudiate the leadership of President Roosevelt.

Flood Control Plank Favored

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—State Sen. W. B. Rodgers notified the tri-state authority, citizens flood control committee, today that leaders on the resolutions committee of the Democratic party, in convention in Philadelphia, had assured him a strong flood control plank would be included in the party's platform.

Indorsement of a national flood control program was written into the Republican party's program at Cleveland.

Communists Are Against Landon

President Roosevelt Called "Lesser Of Two Evils" By Communist Keynoter

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—Beginning the second session of its first national convention ever open to the public the Communist party today had been urged to do everything in its power to defeat Governor Alfred M. Landon, Republican Presidential nominee.

The keynote was sounded by General Secretary Earl Browder, once a Wichita, Kan., bookkeeper, who called President Roosevelt "the lesser of two evils", although he denounced the New Deal and said the present administration is "retreating before reaction".

Browder said it would be preferable for his party members to vote for a Communist presidental candidate and back Farmer-Labor candidates wherever nominated in congressional districts. He predicted the Farmer-Labor party would be the real power in the 1940 election.

William Z. Foster, three times Communist presidential nominee, another opening speaker, in a setting of American and Red flags, denounced the supreme court.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 25—Public organizations united with private citizens in New Wilmington today to erect a new scout house at the New Wilmington park. The scout house will be built on the foundation erected by WPA workers several years ago.

Members of the Rotary club, the volunteer fire company, the community chest, the borough council and private citizens have all contributed money, material or free labor towards building the scout house which is expected to be finished in approximately two weeks. Local Boy Scouts are also donating their time to help with the construction.

The building will be on a democratic foundation, having been erected by WPA labor, but the remainder of the building will be largely Republican since New Wilmington has some 500 Republicans and only 61 Democrats.

Lemke Foresees Close Contest

Asserts Congress Will Decide 1936 Election For President Of U. S.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, June 25.—A prediction that congress will decide the 1936 election since neither Roosevelt nor Landon will obtain a majority in the electoral college was left here today by Congressman William Lemke, presidential candidate of the Coughlin-endorsed Union party.

Stopping here to speak before the local Lions club, Lemke branded as untrue reports the newly-formed third party has no hopes of victory this year and is building for 1940 or 1944.

Denouncing both major parties as "representatives of Wall Street," the presidential candidate voiced confidence that Roosevelt will not win in the popular election.

Lemke with his two sons was on his way to Chicago where he will open campaign headquarters.

Dr. Chas R. Foster Back In Pittsburgh

Former Head Of Indiana State Teachers College Resumes Place In Pittsburgh Schools

Ousted from the presidency of Indiana State Teachers' College, Dr. Charles R. Foster has been elected an associate superintendent of the schools of the City of Pittsburgh. He was elected by the Board of Education to succeed Frank M. Leavitt who retires on pension on July 1.

Dr. Foster was recommended by Superintendent Dr. Ben G. Graham, formerly of New Castle. When Dr. Graham left the New Castle schools to become an associate superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, Dr. Foster was first associate at that time. In 1927 he left to accept the presidency of the Indiana State Teachers College. His salary as an associate in Pittsburgh will be $7,500 per year.

His ousting at Indiana caused a flurry there, charges being made that politics was being used to disrupt the school efficiency.

Dr. Foster is a former state president of the P. S. E. A. and was president in 1929 when the convention was held in New Castle.

Stratosphere Balloon Lands In Arkansas

(International News Service)

HUNTSVILLE, Ark., June 25.—J. Denver Smith, Fort Alabam storekeeper, today possessed as a souvenir the ripped and tattered pink cellophane stratosphere balloon released at Minneapolis early yesterday by Prof. and Mrs. Jean Piccard.

The 30-foot passengerless bag landed in a tree top on an Ozark mountain near Fort Alabam, five miles from here, late yesterday.

Attached to the balloon was a note advising the finder that he can collect five dollars by returning the stratosphere instruments to the University of Minnesota and may keep the balloon as a souvenir.

Smith, the finder, said the instruments apparently were undamaged as he prepared to ship them to Minneapolis.

Prof. Piccard stated he hoped the balloon would reach a height of 72,290 feet. Before the takeoff he declared if an examination of the bag and the instruments warranted, a huge cellophane balloon of sufficient size to carry two or three persons aloft, would be constructed and sent aloft later this year in an attempt to set a new world altitude mark and to gain new data for stratosphere research.

Civil War Armies Of Kwangsi Province Near City Of Nanking

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, June 25.—Plunging deep into enemy territory again, the civil war armies of Kwangsi province today neared Nanking's Verdun of the south, Hengchow, and the Kwangsi vanguard fired on northern troops at the city gates, according to dispatches from Hankow.

A huge force of Nanking troops is stationed at Henchow, ready for a fight to keep the southern rebels from reaching Changsha, capital of Hunan province.

Hengchow was the scene of the farthest northern advance of the troops of Kwangsi's former ally, Kwangtung province, earlier in the conflict, which has so far witnessed only two major battles.

Welford Leads In North Dakota Primary Voting

(International News Service)

BISMARCK, N. D., June 25.—Governor Walter Welford held a comfortable lead over former Governor William Langer for the Republican gubernatorial nomination today in hastily tabulated unofficial returns from North Dakota's primary election.

Returns from 503 precincts gave Welford 41,356, Langer 35,156.

Congressman William Lemke (R), third party candidate for president, was automatically renominated by the Republicans since no other name opposed his on the ballot. Also automatically renominated was his presidential campaign manager, Representative Usher Burdick.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Personalities Count In Race

Platform Of Opposing Presidential Candidates Seems Of Little Consequence

CAN'T RECALL 1932 PLATFORM

Central Press Headquarters, Democratic Convention

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—At every national convention there is a deal of talk concerning the platform of whichever party chances to be doing the convening.

In fact, the platform never is of much consequence.

Its framers take it seriously, but no one else does.

The voters vote for candidates: not on platforms. They don't even read the platforms. In a general way, they think they know what the respective nominees stand for, and that's all.

THAT 1932 PLATFORM

There has been no end of complaint that President Roosevelt's policy has differed utterly from the platform he ran on in 1932.

But I'll guarantee that not one elector in 1,000 has more than the haziest idea what was in the Democrats' 1932 platform. At least that's my fix, and, as a newspaper man, I have it on my conscience to keep myself better informed on such subjects than the average individual.

I know roughly that the Democrats promised four years ago to be economical if they won and that the government has spent more money under the Roosevelt administration than ever it spent before.

However, maybe the administration was as economical as was possible in the circumstances.

CONVENTION PLEDGES

Anyway, as a citizen I'm concerned rather with what each presidential rival will succeed in "getting away with" than in platform pledges.

I'm not so unsophisticated as to assume that the victor, "up against" realities, will be able to do just what a mob of screeching, irresponsible delegates has committed him to. I don't believe that many voters are so unsophisticated, either.

In short, my notion is that platforms mean no more than the merest modicum, and my guess is that that is the rank-and-file of the voters' judgment.

I think that they assess the men and the parties, with small regard for the platforms.

PERSONALITIES COUNT

For that matter, Gov. Alf M. Landon already has signified that he has his fingers crossed on important details of the Republican platform.

Folk who cast their ballots for him will cast them for HIM, not for his platform.

Yes, there are clauses in the Cleveland platform that he refuses to indorse. But I'm convinced that the average voter doesn't understand just what they are. If he's a Landonite, he takes Landon's word for it. If he's pro-New Deal, he doesn't investigate.

He doesn't vote for a policy; he votes for a personality.

COMPARISON

As yet it's impossible to estimate how Landon's personality will "stack up" against Roosevelt's.

Roosevelt has a marvelously appealing radio voice.

Landon's is rather squeaky.

However, there are pictures also to be considered.

Landon has a lovely smile—as good as Roosevelt's.

He also has a charmingly midwestern American family—no cases in the divorce courts; no "pinches" for exceeding the speed limits.

There likewise is a religious element to this fight which hasn't yet been taken considerably into consideration. Landon is a Methodist—an Evangelical. It counts in this country.

THE TEST

Platforms?
Phooey!
The test is—personalities.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription—HEM-ROID—to relieve itching, bleeding or protruding piles. This internal medicine acts quickly even in old stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it helps to heal and restore the affected parts and relieves blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting often fail. Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all druggists say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must relieve you of your Pile misery or money back.

No Girl Should Accept Her First Proposal, Says British Woman Official

(International News Service)

LONDON—No girl should accept her first proposal, according to the advice of Miss Lilian Barker, the woman member of the British Prison Commission.

"Before accepting a marriage proposal," Lilian Barker told the Sheffield branch of the National Council of Women, "a girl should wait till she has met other men, and then make her choice."

Miss Barker's contention is warmly supported by an eminent British actress and a prominent woman novelist.

Although inclined to believe Lilian Barker's statement was "altogether too sweeping," Dame Sybil Thorndike, the British actress, said:

"Every girl ought to be left to judge for herself. Nowadays boys and girls mingle so freely from childhood that young women ought to be trusted to make up their own minds on the merits of the proposal.

"Actually, I did not accept my first proposal. No, not by any means," the famous actress added with a reminiscent laugh.

Dame Beatrix Lyall, who has written a best-seller—a booklet on "don'ts" to those about to marry—was inclined to qualified agreement with Miss Barker.

"Such a grave decision should be pondered very carefully," she said. "No girl should embark upon an engagement until she is absolutely sure that marriage is likely to be a success.

"On the other hand I have known many 'first-love' marriages which have been a huge success.

"But it has to be remarked that there may be no more than one proposal. Refusal may be a trifle risky."

Dame Beatrix would not disclose whether she had refused her first proposal.

He added that he will continue to do so as long as he lives, otherwise existence in this wicked world would not be worth while.

Peter ploughs his field like a young man and when his children Thomas, aged 83 and Elizabeth 79 are cheeky, he boxes their ears.

"There is nothing like a good hiding to put children in their place" said Peter to the doctors to whom he proudly introduced well-behaved Thomas and Elizabeth, who, since their widowhood, live under their father's roof.

Auto Hits Pole Impact Is Felt 15 Miles Away

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—John S. Maris drove his automobile into a power-line pole here with such force that the impact was felt fifteen miles away.

The crash snapped the pole off at the base causing a short-circuit in electric service that was felt in restaurants, homes and poultry farms alike, from Portland to Gresham, Ore., about fifteen miles distant.

One poultry raiser who called the power company with a frantic plea that service be resumed immediately, said he had three thousand turkey eggs, valued at 30 cents each, which were growing "cold" in an electrically-heated incubator. Many similar complants from poultrymen flooded the company.

Restaurant owners were hardhit by the lack of service when they were unable to cook food for their Sunday trade.

Householders who returned from a weekend at the beach found their homes cold and without electrical heat for cooking.

The accident resulted in the burning out of two high-voltage transformers, valued at approximately $1500.

Electric company "trouble shooters" were unable to repair the damage until six hours had passed, when thousands of telephone complaints had reached the company headquarters, and damage estimated at thousands of dollars had been done.

Maris said he was forced to drive his car into the power-line pole when a woman driver turned in front of him without signalling.

Urge Exodus Halt Of Hosiery Mills

Employees And Textile Heads Meet To Stop Moves To South

READING, Pa., June 25.—At a meeting called by representatives of employees' associations in 12 of the largest fullfashioned hosiery mills in the Berks district, held here with bankers, clergymen, lawyers and merchants participating, plans were made for an educational campaign to help stop the exodus of hosiery mills to the south.

A campaign similar to plans made at a similar meeting in the Philadelphia fullfashioned hosiery mill district in May, to halt the movement of textile mills from that area to the south, is proposed. A number of manufacturers attended the meeting.

Called by Ralph Ringler, general chairman of the central body of the hosiery knitters, the meeting discussed the southern wage differential, which has hit northern mills, the Japanese silk hosiery import problem and other issues.

One of them is the necessity for a concerted movement by northern cities and towns to match the offers of southern communities of free sites, exemption from taxation for a term, and, in some cases, rent free buildings to northern mill companies. Such offers are regarded as the chief incentive to many mills in the north to go south, the Japanese competition issue affects all American plants, wherever located.

The southern wage differential is regarded as only a temporary problem, as it can be met by legislation, some speakers said.

Zoologists Feast On Caterpillars And Hippo Stew

(International News Service)

PARIS—Hippopotamus stew, eaten fresh for the first time in Paris, was the main item on the menu of the annual luncheon given here by the "Societe National d'Acclimitation." The society is the nearest French equivalent to the Royal Zoological Society.

The stew was a great success and though members and guests were a little distrustful at first, there were a number of demands for second helpings. The animal itself had been killed on the banks of the Niger and transported in cold storage to the quays of the Seine.

Among the other exotic items which figured on the menu were: Antelope fillet, sea-slugs, Japanese sea-weed, grilled caterpillars, and Mango seeds from Asia.

This was the 31st luncheon given by the society, and it is considered that, judging by the increasing number of persons who attend it, a more exotic menu may gradually enliven the fare of the ordinary Parisian restaurant.

Mystery Deaths Will Be Probed

Pittsburgh Triple Slaying Crime To Be Formally Investigated

STARTS QUESTIONING PRINCIPALS IN CASE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—A preliminary questioning of all principals in the case was planned by Coroner W. J. McGregor today before he sets a date for the inquest in the mysterious deaths last Thursday of Mrs. Eleanor Feely and her two children, Robert, 5, and Janice, 3.

The coroner said he hoped to establish a clear picture of Mrs. Feely's mental condition just before her death, and desired also to learn all he could about the status of the Feely couple's domestic life.

Among the witnesses to be interrogated today were Martin J. Feely, husband and father of the victims, and an assistant director of physical education at the University of Pittsburgh; Charles H. Young, owner of the Feely apartment, who discovered the stabbed and garroted bodies; three Negro window cleaners who called at the Feely home the morning of the crimes, and city detectives.

Coincident with announcement of the coroner's plans, police disclosed their check of a bloody fingerprint found on a door in the cellar of the Feely home had been discontinued because the print was too smudged to be of any use.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

REMEMBER OLD FRIENDS

It always has seemed to me a mark of genuine character in a person who has won distinction to remember those who were the playmates of his childhood, or the pals of his youth. Now and then one runs across a precious soul like this, who seems to prize these sincere old friendships, however humble, as above all others. Oftentimes, alas, those who were once the fondest comrades are forgotten or treated with contempt.

There is the young man or woman who rises to high levels of achievement in his communtiy or elsewhere, and on that account comes to mingle with those who have more money, more social prestige or cultural opportunities. Naturally he acquires new tastes, and his old companions do not wholly satisfy. Yet he will run across them occasionally; he will come back to the old home place. Does he have the chivalry and refinement and fineness of character to make his old cronies feel he still respects them; that he cherishes the youthful memories of mingling with them, delighting to rehearse the experiences of their earlier days together? Or does he act as if he wishes to forget these youthful pleasantries, or feels uncomfortable and half-ashamed to be seen with the comrades of his f "mer years?

Let me beg the young college man and woman to reflect upon these matters. Maybe you're about the only one among your childhood group going to college. At vacation time, when you come home, what do these old comrades think of you? Do they say that you have grown proud, stuck-up and conceited?

Some Misunderstand

Despite your honest efforts to be humble and considerate, some of your old friends will, of course, misunderstand you. Naturally you have greatly changed; your world has been vastly widened. In order to maintain their affection and esteem you may have to exercise considerable effort at adjustment. And if you succeed, yours will be a glorious achievement in terms of satisfaction and enrichment of your personality.

In this problem you will find help by reminding yourself that greatness is not always what it seems to be; that in humblest places some of the loveliest persons may be found, and some of the noblest achievements be attained. While your college training ought to help you gain perspective, might it not, on the contrary, cramp your vision?

I wonder what my readers think about this problem.

Troops Of 52nd Brigade To Parade At Indiantown Gap Before Maj. Shannon

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., June 25—Troops of the 52nd Cavalry Brigade, Pennsylvania National Guard, will ride in review next Sunday as a part of their two weeks' encampment on the State Military Reservation.

The rhythmic thud of pounding hoofs will be blended with the drone of airplanes and the rumble of armored cars in the parade before Major General E. C. Shannon, commander of the Guard.

Aircraft of the 103rd Observation Squadron will fly in formation overhead and four armored cars of the Third Cavalry from Fort Myer, Virginia, will parade with the troops to which they are attached for the training period.

The brigade of 1600 men, commanded by Brigadier General E. J. Stackpole, Jr., went into camp Sunday.

Prof. McKee Speaks At Kiwanis Luncheon

Westminster Business Administration Head Discusses U. S. Conditions

American can easily stabilize her industrial progress when her technique in organization "catches up" with her engineering ability, Prof. C. W. McKee, head of Westminster College's Department of business administration, told the Kiwanis club on Wednesday.

"Our engineering ability is now far ahead of our technique in dealing with organized business," the college man declared in his address at The Castleton.

First Vice President Thomas L. Paden presided yesterday in the place of President Harry L. Gormley, in Washington, D. C. with other local Kiwanians attending the Kiwanis International convention. President W. Herbert Smith, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was a special guest.

Correct this sentence: "This witness is a free citizen," said the judge, "and you must quit insulting him."

CUTS WASHING HOURS .. SAVES CLOTHES

The NORGE will wash from six to nine pounds in as many minutes. Its gentle (yet speedy) agitator motion maintains a constant flow of water. There is no bunching or tangling in a NORGE WASHER; no danger of injury to the finest fabrics. Clothes washed in a NORGE wear much longer. The attractive white tub of refrigerator porcelain is easily kept clean and glistening white throughout the years with no more than ordinary care.

A MODERN LABOR SAVER

Think of the precious hours you will save in doing all your ironing in half the time while seated at your own NORGE IRONER. It has automatic heat control with finger-tip regulation. It has two speeds—a slow one for beginners and for heavy, damp articles—a faster speed for ordinary and flat pieces—and with limited practice you can iron everything; even press baby's coat or dad's trousers. Its really fun to iron with a NORGE.

CLEARFIELD NURSERY LARGEST IN STATE

HARRISBURG.—Over a hundred million trees have been cultivated at the Clearfield nursery for reforestation purpose during the last twenty years, Department of Forests and Waters nursery officials announced today.

The Clearfield nursery, which occupies twenty-one acres of soil, is the largest Department of Forests and Waters nursery in the State. It averages about four million trees annually as its output. Its capacity is over six millions. The average number of trees in the process of cultivation at Clearfield from season to season is seventeen million. Seed was sown this spring to produce ten million trees.

AROUND CITY HALL

It was announced through Mayor Charles E. McGrath today that the traffic system in Cochran alley had been changed between Washington and South streets to make that portion a one-way alley (or south) between South and North streets. The alley was a south way traffic between North street and Washington srteet but a north way traffic between South and Washington streets. From now on all traffic must travel only south in the alley between North and South streets.

Within a week it is probable that the actual construction work will get under way at the airport. According to city officials, land titles are being examined before the city actually purchases the land.

When a siren on a police car screamed in the patrol barn yesterday afternoon detectives and police rushed for the car. It was a test to see how quickly the officers could respond. Some of them fairly leaped down the stairway from the second floor where they have their headquarters.

Dog Catcher Gets Only Ten Canines At Grove City

GROVE CITY, June 25.—For all the uproar occasioned by the employment of a negro dog catcher from New Castle, to round up strays here, he has captured only ten dogs, according to his first report to Burgess W. W. VanEman. However, the official reports that his presence has induced owners to keep their pets on a leash, and complaints have been almost eliminated.

The dog catcher is on a straight salary, and the fines are turned over to the borough. The usual assessment, when the dog is reclaimed soon, is $1.

Yurochko had made a bad pass on the brow of a hill in East Lackawannock township early Sunday evening and evidently tried to beat the motorcycle.

At a hearing before Squire Thomas McClain, Jr., today he was fined $10 and costs and was released upon making payment.

'Revolting Story Told By Witness In Coast Trial

Charles Hope, Former Sailor Tells Of Buying Snakes For Robert James

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, June 25—All his former glibness gone, and ill at his own revolting story, Charles Hope, a young former sailor, was recalled to the witness stand here today to give further details of how he twice purchased deadly rattlesnakes which he knew were going to be used to inflict a horrible death on a woman.

Trembling and white, Hope created pandemonium in the crowded courtroom where he appeared as the state's star witness against Robert S. James, "Bluebeard barber," accused of the horrible rattlesnake-drowning of his seventh wife.

Dependent Blanches

Mumbling almost incoherently from the stand, Hope testified he purchased the "hot" snakes after James told him some others he had obtained "wouldn't work."

For the first time since his arrest several months ago, the stoical barber blanched at the horror of Hope's testimony. A woman spectator uttered a short moan and fell forward in a faint.

Judge Charles W. Fricke rapped for order and urged Hope to speak more coherently. The witness said he was "too ill to talk." and was dismissed.

KANSAS ACCLAIMS GOVERNOR LANDON ON VACATION TRIP

spot, the McGraw ranch, six miles from there, awaits them. Plans called for a cavalcade of 200 horsemen to greet Landon at Estes Park and escort him to the ranch.

At Watkins, Colo., 22 miles east of Denver, the train was to be boarded this morning by former United States Senator Lawrence Phipps, Republican national committeeman; Charles Enos, state chairman, and Wilbur Denious, Denver attorney in charge of the reception.

Throngs greeted the nominee at every stop in Kansas last night. Leaving Topeka at 7 p. m., where more than a thousand persons were on hand to bid him farewell, the nominee found crowds at Manhattan, Junction City, Abilene and Salina waiting to cheer him.

Hurray For Next President

The cry was "Hi Alf" and "Hurray for the next president," as the Kansas chief executive, accompanied by Mrs. Landon appeared on the platform of their private car. A band at Manhattan played "Three Long Years" and "Oh Susanna," the G. O. P. campaign songs.

The Landons shook hands with all who could gain access to the platform, and called many in the throngs by their first names. At Junction City, W. H. Clevenger, a prominent miller, brought the governor the news the wheat crop in East-Central Kansas was one-third above normal yield.

"Swell," yelled back the nominee.

Crowds At Stations

During the journey from Topeka to Manhattan, the governor conferred with Burton French, Miami university (Oxford, O.) professor and former Republican congressman from Idaho. Leaving the train at Manhattan, French said he was scheduled to partake in three-cornered political debates at Portland, Oregon, this summer with Norman Thomas, speaking for the Socialist party, and Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, representing the Democrats.

After hearing a crowd of three thousand shout his name into the night air during a 15-minute stop at Salina, Governor Landon retired at 10:30 p. m., leaving a call for 6 a. m.

The governor's schedule calls for him to return to Topeka July 6. The Landon family will remain at the ranch until September.

Huge Crowd at Denver

En Route Estes Park, Col., June 25.—Gov. Alfred M. Landon arrived in Denver early today to find the Union station jammed with a roaring crowd of 5,000 persons. Thousands more lined the streets to catch a glimpse of the G. O. P. Presidential nominee as he rode through the business district in an open car.

The Kansas chief executive was greeted by a reception committee headed by two Democrats, Gov. Ed. C. Johnson of Colorado, Major Benjamin Stapleton of Denver, former Senator Lawrence Phipps, G. O. P. national committeeman, and Republican State Chairman Charles R. Enos.

Speaking to the throng gathered in front of the railroad station, the governor exchanged greetings with the reception committee.

"Colorado and Kansas know each other as neighbors and friends," Gov. Landon said. "But we are more than just neighbors.

"The sons and daughters of those pioneers, whether they live east or west of our state line, have a common forward-looking viewpoint."

ity, served dinner in the basement of the church. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion.

After dinner, the program was presented in the M. E. church auditorium, because of the threat of rain.

Honor Deceased Ones

President A. Reid English acted as chairman and introduced the speakers. The invocation was given by Rev. David K. Kerr, pastor of the Presbyterian church, after which Miss Mary Minnehan in charge of the memoriams to the different members who have passed away during the year, was presented. She called upon Rev. Earle Thompson, who spoke feelingly on the life of Dawson D. Potter, of New Castle. He also mentioned Dr. Will Love, Dr. Orr, Mrs. Della Book Cowden, Mrs. Minnie McConnell Drake and John S. Shaw.

Attorney Homer C. Drake paid tribute to Attorney Clyde V. Ailey, who had been a lifelong friend.

Rev. S. A. Kirkbride, of New Wilmington, paid tribute to Dr. J. B. Bowman, former dean of the school and of Mt. Union College.

Frank S. Brenneman gave the memoriam to Dr. Galbreath and reviewed his life from the standpoint of a builder, a statesman, educator, and friend. Dr. Galbreath, who founded the school in 1889 held the degree of B. S., M. S., A. M., PH.D., and LLD. He served in the state legislature of Ohio, and on many important state committees. He was also interested in many publications.

Many prominent local men owe their education to the kindly sympathy and help granted them by Dr. Galbreath. He was responsible for the construction of the Volant Presbyterian church, which changed the community from a rough mining center to one of culture.

Others Pay Tribute

Mrs. Galbreath and members of her family were present and those present stood for a moment in silent prayer in sympathy with them in the loss of their husband and father.

Other tributes to the memory of Dr. Galbreath were given by John C. Syling, county superintendent of schools; Mrs. Mary Watson Bingham, and Prof. J. N. Locke, of Beaver county.

The names of many unable to attend were read by the secretary, Miss Olive Clinefelter.

The nominating committee appointed by President English, gave their report which was unanimously adopted and the officers named above were elected for the coming year. Those who served on the committee were: Attorney Homer C. Drake, Matthew Howard, Alex McConahy, George W. Patterson and Harry Fouse.

A vote of thanks was extended to New Castle News for the splendid assistance given the association and to the residents of the Volant community who had worked hard to make the event the most successful in the history of the association.

GIRLS AT CAMP ARE KEPT BUSY

Camp East Brookers Up At 7:30 Each Morning For Full Program Of Activities

Such a busy and interesting program is being followed at Camp East Brook that none of the 45 little girls has found time to be homesick. They are fully acclimatized to the camp life on this, their fourth day, and are having a grand time.

They get up at 7:30 a. m., breakfast at 8, take care of their camp duties from 8:30 to 9, make themselves and bunks spic and span for inspection at 9, adjourn to a pretty spot near the river for morning worship and then pass the rest of the morning in dramatics, swimming, handicraft and nature study classes.

Luncheon comes at 1 p. m., then group singing, store and library, and rest hour. From 3 to 4 o'clock they have a recreation period when they can play mushball, write letters, et cetera, and then, from 4 to 4:45 all go for a swim in the pool. Supper at 5:30, flag lowering ceremony and games afterward. Then, every night from 7:30 to 8:15 an entertainment is presented, followed up by crackers and milk, and, at 9, lights out and to sleep.

The evening entertainments attract a great amount of interest from the girls. They have had amateur hour, and a masquerade costume ball; a hare and hound chase and marshmallow roast is scheduled for tonight. Visitors will be entertained Friday night.

They have been very much absorbed by a camp newspaper, "The Camp Gossip," in charge of Miss Clarissa Duff. Each day a different cabin group is in charge of the edition.

Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer, inspected the pool and drinking water this week, approving both.

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—A male Cinderella hunt was instituted by police here recently in an effort to "find the feet" belonging to a pair of size nine shoes confiscated along with a quantity of cached liquor.

The shoes, newly-shined, were found close to eight five-gallon cans of moonshine, a carton of empty bottles, a supply of corks, four pints of moonshine and 26 "numbers" books.

TRANSFER $2,000,000 FOR STATE RELIEF NEEDS

Emergency Is Met Once More

Legislature Provides For State Relief For Another Two Weeks

SOCIAL SECURITY SHOWDOWN NEAR

By ARTHUR H. WAKELEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, June 25.—With the emergency relief problem out of the way for at least two weeks, administration leaders today were setting the stage for a "show down" on the social security program when the legislature reconvenes next week.

Having provided for immediate relief needs through a transfer of $2,000,000 to the state emergency relief administration, the general assembly was in adjournment until Monday night. A majority of the Democratic members of the two branches of the legislature were planning to spend at least a portion of the rest of the week attending the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia.

Upon resumption of the legislative sessions, the first knot to be untied will be that of social security. The state will have until Tuesday night to pass enabling legislation bringing Pennsylvania's security program into conformity with the federal social security act.

Little Headway.

Although a conference committee made little or no headway during the past week in ironing out disagreements on the Brancato mothers' assistance bill, the group's deliberations will be resumed Monday. Because of the need for passing the security laws if the state is to share in reimbursement benefits, it was expected an agreement will be reached before the Tuesday night deadline.

While Republican members of the conference group insisted Democratic demands—primarily the insistence that Gov. George H. Earle make all appointments to the various county boards of the mothers' assitsance funds—were exorbitant, the Democratic bloc retaliated by charging the G.O.P. demands would place the funds "back into the cauldron of petty local politics".

Republican spokesmen said they had offered all they planned to when they suggested four of the seven members of the county boards be named by the governor, two by the county common pleas court and one by the county commissioners.

Would Probe Relief Rolls.

Meanwhile, legislators faced the prospect of another relief investigation, this one to examine the state's relief rolls. It was suggested by Senator Frederick T. Gelder, R, Susquhanna, who as chairman of the senate appropriations committee, asked Karl De Schweinitz, state relief director, for an estimate of relief needs for July and for the remainder of the year.

"The committee would be glad to receive an expression of your views as to whether the time has not arrived for a new and searching investigation of the relief rolls," Gelder wrote De Schweinitz. "As much is being said and printed at the present time regarding the relief situation, the committee likewise desires to have your views as to the extent of demands that may be expected upon state resources for administration of relief for the remainder of the year."

The $2,000,000 relief resolution was signed by Governor Earle in Philadelphia late yesterday.

Mechanical Aids Are Given Blame For Air Crash

Failure Of Mechanical Aids To Work, Caused Crash Of Liner In Arkansas

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25—Failure of three mechanical aids to air navigation maintained by the U. S. Bureau of air commerce caused the airplane crash that took the lives of Senator Bronson Cutting (R), of New Mexico and four other persons the senate air safety committee said today.

Col. Harold E. Hartney, chief investigator, reported:

"No evidence of mechanical failure of the plane having been found, the pilot's safe arrival and landing at an alternative destination was dependent upon three aids to navigation furnished by the bureau.

"First, dependability of the northeast leg of the Kansas City radio range. Second, the pilot needed the normal operation of the radio station at Kirksville, Mo. Third, he needed the best efficiency on the three dotating light beacons on the last 20 miles southwest of Kirksville airport.

"All three failed him."

Mystery Ray Lights Room And Snaps Photograph In Event An Intruder Enters

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 25.—If the secret ray invented by Charles Alexander is all he claims it to be Burglar "Bill" is right out of a job.

For two year Alexander has experimented in his laboratory at his home in Iver, Buckinghamshire, testing, searching for the mystery ray.

The completed invention is a secret ray which not only gives warnings as soon as the intruder gets into the building, but floods the room with light and locks all the doors.

All a householder or bank watchman has to do is to ring up the police and ask them to come along and collect.

The ray will also open doors, switch on light, ring bells and soon will take photographs. No one can see it or feel it, but as soon as a human body comes near it it begins to act.

Visits to the inventor's office above Whitehall is something approaching a nightmare. Bell's ring, colored lights flash and pretty pictures appear in mirrors.

Walk casually over to the safe in the corner, and as you approach it a warning bell jangles and an innocent-looking mirror suddenly lights up to show a picture of a burglar robbing a safe.

Alexander is quite proud about the whole business.

"I bought a patent which contained the germ of the idea a couple of years ago," he declared.

"The rest of the time I have spent in countless experiments trying to perfect it.

"My apparatus gives off an invisible ray, which can flood a whole room. As soon as a human body comes in contact with it it acts as a conductor."

Quick Help for Weak, Nervous Rundown, Skinny Women!
How Amazing New Sea Plant from Pacific Ocean Feeds IODINE-STARVED GLANDS Quickly, Renews ENERGY, Builds Glorious NEW STRENGTH, and ADDS 5 LBS. in 1 Week or No Cost!
Here's new hope and encouragement for thousands of tired, weak, worn out, haggard-looking women whose energy and strength have been sapped by housework and worry, who are nervous, irritable, always half-sick and ailing. Science has at last placed its finger on one of the principal causes of this dangerous rundown condition—IODINE STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly, all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is, you stay skinny, rundown, ailing.
The most important gland—the one which actually controls body weight and strength building—needs a definite ration of Iodine all the time—NATURAL ASSIMILABLE IODINE—not to be confused with chemical Iodides which often prove toxic. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of Iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested food into firm flesh, new strength and energy.
To get this vital mineral in convenient, concentrated and assimilable form, take Seedol Kelpamalt—now recognized as the world's richest source of this precious substance. It contains 1,300 times more Iodine than oysters, once considered the best source. 6 tablets alone contain more NATURAL IODINE than 486 lbs. of spinach or 1,387 lbs. of lettuce.
Try Seedol Kelpamalt for a single week and notice the difference. See flattering extra pounds appear in place of scrawny hollows. Notice how much better you feel, and if you don't gain at least 5 lbs. in one week the trial is free. Seedol Kelpamalt costs but little to use. Your own doctor will approve this way. Try it today.

'Y' Clubs Stage Gay Camp Frolic

Crowd Of 40 Enjoys Inter-Club Celebration At Camp Fred L. Rentz

Fair weather and jollity prevailed last night as a merry host of more than 40 young men participated at Camp Fred L. Rentz in the first inter-club outing of the different young men's organizations of the Y. M. C. A.

The crowd motored to the Slippery Rock creek camp about 6:30 and joined in the sports program and a campfire entertainment that continued until late.

Sponsored by the Young Men's Council of the "Y", the outing brought together for the first outdoor celebration the memberships of the various clubs and fraternities. Newt Campbell was the outing's general chairman.

The warmly contested mushball game between the Pro Indus team and another representing The Townsmen, was the main evening attraction, The Townsmen winning by the narrow count of 36-35. The umpire for it was John P. Boyles, president of the Young Men's Council, president of The Townsmen, and an officer of the Pro Indus organization.

The campfire entertainment was spontaneous and consisted chiefly of songs.

A lunch was served at the close.

Assisting Campbell on the committee on arrangements were William Winters, George Anderson, Gerald Morris and General Secretary R. L. Meermans.

BRIEF SESSION OF CONVENTION IS HELD AT NOON

a constitutional amendment that will give to the federal government the powers which the court has said it did not have.

But there are Democrats in Philadelphia who believe the party should take the constitutional issue by the horns and declare specifically for either (1) a curtailment of the court's powers, or (2) an amendment which will afford the states and the federal government a degree of authority over economic fundamentals.

Cite G. O. P. Stand.

Those who hold to this belief were busy pointing out in the platform committee and in the party councils today that the Republicans already had taken something of a forthwright stand. While the G. O. P. platform was silent about the question of amending the constitution, Governor Alfred M. Landon, in his telegram of interpretation to the Cleveland convention, stated that he favored, if necessary, a constitutional amendment to enable the states to legislate where hours and wages of labor are concerned.

The supreme court of the United States has said that neither the federal government nor the states now have that specific power.

There wasn't much contest over other parts of the platform. Most of the fight centered on the party position about amending the constitution.

The rules committee was all set to bring in a report recommending abrogation of the two-thirds nominating rule, which Andrew Jackson fastened about the party's neck more than a hundred years ago, and which resulted in some of the bitterest wars in Democratic history.

Appropriately enough, it was Senator Bennett Champ Clark, as chairman of the committee, who fought the two-thirds rule fight through. Twenty-four years ago at Baltimore his father, Champ Clark, would have been the Democratic nominee for the presidency instead of Woodrow Wilson had it not been for that two-thirds rule.

Clark in the 1912 convention had a clear majority on five ballots, only to lose in the end. The young square-jawed senator from Missouri took a peculiar and personal satisfaction in leading the fight to throw out the rule that prevented his father from becoming president.

The Dixie delegations didn't like the abrogation of the old rule, however. They fought it in committee and they promised to carry their fight to the convention floor. The southerners have always regarded the two-thirds rule as their special protection against the domination of the graet state machines of the north. It has been their "veto power" and they did not propose to relinquish it lightly.

AGROGATION OF TWO THIRDS RULE SEEMS CERTAIN

his proposal to base future convention representation on Democratic voting strength.

Leo Fox of Wisconsin, moved it be tabled.

A roll call started but after a dozen states had been called, Strong got unanimous consent to withdraw his motion.

"It's obvicous the ayes will win." he said, "and the time of this committee is getting short."

Strong will renew his fight on all counts before the full convention.

W. W. Hastings, Oklahoma, offered a motion to instruct the Democratic national committee to draft a voting strength basis of representation.

Name Committee to Arrange Plan

Senator Tydings, Maryland, offered the motion that a sub-committee of 7 be appointed to work out some sound and agreeable method of future representation and report back at 3 p. m.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri was named chairman of the subcommittee and immediately appointed, to serve with him, Senators Tydings of Maryland and Chavez of New Mexico; Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York; W. W. Hastings, Oklahoma; D. W. Durbin, of Ohio and Beeman Strong, Texas.

Following the appointments, the committee recessed and the subcommittee went into session.

"I think we all agree that an equitable method of representation should be adopted but it requires a little thought," Tydings said.

The motion was carried by a viva voce vote.

Suit For Damages Brought By Driver

George H. Moore, Hickory Township Asks $1,000 From Mary J. Kirk, Akron, O.

George H. Moore of Hickory township has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Mary J. Kirk of Akron, O., in which he asks for $1,000 damages as a result of an accident on the New Castle-Harlansburg road.

Moore was driving toward New Castle with his brother, W. C. Moore and nephew, Donnie Moore. Mrs. Kirk was driving in the same direction and attempted to pass the Moore car. The road was wet and slippery.

As Mrs. Kirk's car came up to the Moore car the bumper of her machine caught the left rear wheel of the Moore car, turning the car completely around and upsetting it in the ditch.

George H. Moore, the plaintiff and his brother, W. C. Moore were pinned under their car. Moore suffered serious injuries, which caused him to lose three months work. He was employed at the time at $75 per month and board. For six months thereafter he was only able to work part of a day at a time at $15 per month. His car, valued at $100 was completely wrecked and he had a doctor's bill to pay.

Daring Burglar Is Being Hunted

Thief Who Stole $400,000 Worth Of Jewels And Money Object Of Search

ENTERED OTHER HOMES, BELIEF

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 25.—An amazingly clever raffles type of crook, who looted the home of David Dows a year ago, was being sought by all metropolitan law enforcement agencies today as the burglar who broke into the Long Island home of William Robertson Coe and made off with cash and jewelry valued at more than $400,000.

Both Inspector Harold King of Nassau county and Coe himself expressed the belief that the perpetrator of the greatest housebreaking job in Long Island's history and the man who looted the home of Dows in Brookville, L. I., and the Robert L. Dodge estate at Mill Neck were one and the same person. King exonerated the servants in the Coe home of any implication in the theft.

Daring Burglary

In robbing the home of Dows, a former Nassau county sheriff, the thief came across jewels valued at $10,000. But this was small fry compared to the loot from the Coe home.

Police described the robbery as one of the most capable in years. The thief stole into the estate without attracting the notice of 32 servants and a kennel full of dogs. Apparently he waited until Coe, millionaire sportsman, went to sleep at 2:30 a. m. Then the burglar climbed an 18-foot concrete column, pulled himself over an almost impassable ledge and slashed a screen leading into Coe's room.

Without awakening Coe or his wife, the former Caroline Graham Slaughter, the burglar lifted the jewels from the dressing room between the couple's bedrooms and made his escape. His most valuable haul was a $300,000 necklace given to Mrs. Coe by her husband as a wedding present.

"—I feel and look better
—there is color in my cheeks
—my appetite is keen
—my weight is back to normal.

"This I am noting in my Diary and I give full credit to S.S.S. for causing me to 'feel like myself again.'"

So we suggest—

Don't try to get well in a day...this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel rundown...a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak, with a tendency towards anemia—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic. © S.S.S. Co.

CONTINUE DRIVE ON GYPSY MOTH

HARRISBURG, June 25.—Spraying an entire mountainside with liquid brought through mile-long hose lines under 1000 pounds pressure and thrown more than 100 feet into the air has been accomplished by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, United States Department of Agriculture and the Works Progress Administration in the gypsy moth eradication project in Luzerne, Lackawanna and nearby counties.

During the winter and early spring 400,000 acres were scouted for moth and trespass permits obtained from several thousand property owners. Certain infested areas were enclosed with over seven miles of fencing to keep out livestock. More than 300,000 burlap bands were wrapped around trees as moth traps and detectors. The insect defoliates and finally kills trees.

Cheerful Parrot Taken By Death

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—It was not a "good morning" today for the unknown who cheered passersby with happy "good mornings".

The unknown, a parrot, was discovered yesterday sitting on a fence in Braddock. Whence he came or to whom he belonged no one knew.

A truck came along and stopped. "Good morning," croaked the bird.

"Good morning," responded the driver.

A policeman strolled by. "good morning," spake Mr parrot.

"Good morning," replied Mr. policeman.

Together, the policeman and the truck driver took the parrot to a police station after having made friends with it by feeding it crackers.

Today, the cheerful bird died from causes unknown.

Even Gigolos Out On Strike

CANNES, France, June 25—Taking as their strike slogan the recent popular song, "I Won't Dance," gigolos of the Riviera today joined the nation-wide strike movement, demanding $2.75 a day instead of $2.

Three hundred professional dancing partners walked off floors here. Threatening to "occupy" the dance halls just as factory and department store employees occupied plants and stores elsewhere.

Spy Plot Facts Are Uncovered

Former American Naval Officer And Japanese Commander Indicted

ASSERT NAVAL SECRETS SOLD

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, June 25—Revealing amazing details of a spy plot in which United States naval secrets assertedly were sold to Japan, the federal government today had under indictment a high Japanese naval officer and a former non-commissioned officer in the American navy.

Charging 19 "over acts" in which blueprints and documents were "stolen from the United States Navy and delivered to agents of Japan," the indictments charge Lieutenant commander Toshio Miyazaki of the imperial Jauanese navy and Harry Thomas Thompson, former United States naval petty officer, with violation of the espionage act.

The bills, which provide a maximum sentence of 20 years for each defendant, were issued late yesterday by federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich. He issued bench warrants for the arrests and set bond at $10,000 for each defendant.

Meanwhile government agents here, who have been working on the case for a year, were frankly apprehensive of international repercussions which might result from the criminal citations.

Thompson is already in custody, serving a six month sentence for illegally wearing a naval uniform. Commander Miyazaki, formerly enrolled as a language officer at Stanford University, is thought to have fled to his native country.

(International News Service)

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., June 25.—Members of the Pennsylvania State Bar association today stood warned that "direspect in high places for the constitution and the laws breeds and foments like disposition and methods among many citizens."

William Lynn Ransom, president of the American Bar association, told the Keystone lawyers, in convention here: "It is your highest duty, along with all good citizens, to set your faces like flint against all forms of disrespect for the constitution and laws."

Stressing that he was not speaking of any issue of the national campaign, Ransom said:

"An independent, impartial, nonpolitical judiciary is the absolute essential of free government and liberty."

Noted Author Delivers Talk To Kiwanians

Will Durant Proposes "Step Toward Political Regeneration"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Schools of government in the universities and a United States civil academy in Washington to turn out thoroughly trained men and women for public office was proposed today by Will Durant, the author, "as a step toward political regeneration."

Under the present system, he told the closing session of the Kiwanis International, "we make education a disqualification for public office with our untrained democracy advancing confidently to the inevitable test, in diplomacy and war, with the trained aristocracy of Europe and Japan."

Four Basic Problems

Durant stated four basic problems, biological, economic, moral and political, confront civilization. He believed the low birth-rate of the able and the high birth-rate of mediocrity could be corrected by segregating the defectives against reproduction, by encouraging fertility among the able and discouraging it among the ignorant classes. He proposed free maternity facilities for able mothers in the middle class.

A. Copeland Callen, of Urbana, Ills., a department head at the University of Illinois, was elected president of the international by acclamation. Other officers elected were: James M. Lynch, Florence, S. C., and F. Trafford Taylor, Winnipeg, Manitoba, vice presidents; and H. G. Hatfield, Oklahoma City, treasurer.

The Kiwanians were lauded for their care of crippled children by President Roosevelt. Speaking to them on the White House lawn he also told them of the need for spreading the doctrine of the good neighbor throughout all American communities. He said this doctrine has strengthened frendship between the Americas.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks — and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Gene Sarazen, Four Americans Still In Tourney

Sarazan And Four Fellow Countrymen Survive First Round Of British Tourney

(International News Service)

HOYLAKE, June 25. — Led by Gene Sarazen, 1932 winner, four Americans posted good scores today in the first 18-hole round of the British open golf championship, a round which found dark horses taking the lead.

Sarazen scored a 73, three behind the leader, W. J. Cox, of the British Ryder cup team. Errie Ball of Mobile, Ala., and Willie Goggin of San Francisco each had 74's, and Ted Turner, Pine Valley, N. J., carded a 75, all in the running.

A fifth American, Joe Ezar, of Waco, Tex., looked bad with an 82, and has a tough assignment in scoring low enough tomorrow to stay among the first 60 who will be in for Saturday's 36-hole final play.

James Adams of England followed Cox with a 71, and three more Britons, R. A. Whitcombe, Jack McLean and W. H. Davies—had 72's.

Bracketed with Sarazen at 73 were two others who, with him, are most highly favored to win. The are Alf Padgham, steady playing British professional champion, and Henry Cotton, 1934 winner and qualifying medalist this year.

Probe Death Of Former Marine

Man Is Found Dead, Bonus Money Of $750, Is Missing

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Leaving the mystery of his missing bonus money still unsolved, the coroner's office today announced that Herman Jacobs, former marine lieutenant, probably died of alcoholism and not of a blow over the head.

Acting on this information attorneys for Mrs. Caroline Lindahl and her 18-year-old daughter Virginia, held in connection with the death, announced they would seek habeas corpus writs. Detectives, who are investigating an asserted strange love triangle in which the mother and daughter both are said to have been enamoured of the handsome officer, said they are certain someone was with Jacobs when he died.

Bludgeoned over the head, the body of Jacobs was found here in a lettuce patch and the $750 he had just received as bonus money was missing.

McConahy Waives Hearing In Charge

Posts $1,000 Bond For Court Appearance On Involuntary Manslaughter Charge

Raymond McConahy, charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of C. L. Hyde, who was instantly killed when the car which McConahy is said to have been operating, collided with the Hyde car near Cascade Park, June 14, waived a hearing before Alderman O. H. P. Green, and was bound over to court in bail of $1,000.

A preliminary hearing on the charge was to have been held Wednesday afternoon. Bail was furnished by Alex McConahy, father of the accused.

As early as 1794, the United States supreme court indicated that it had judicial power to declare an act of congress void. However, it was not until 1803, in the case of Marbury versus Madison, that the high court held definitely that the power was one of the necessary corollaries of the constitution.

Man Had Brick In His Stomach For 10 Years

One man here in New Castle stated that for 10 years he felt as if he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn-out, headachy, swollen with gas. Recently he started taking the new, double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW — the scientific formula of FOUR (4) different remedies for the relief of common stomach distrss. This man said the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the first day. He is free of headaches now, never bloats up with gas and the worn-out feeling is gone.

Acts At Once

WHITE SWALLOW neutralizes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloat, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. Not habit-forming like soda, and pleasant to take. Settles the stomach at once.

Costs So Little

Best of all WHITE SWALLOW costs less than 1c a dose. So it would be unfair to yourself to suffer. We want the public to know about this new, scientific remedy because it has helped just about eveyone who has taken it.—

Police Boxing Show Here Friday Night

Ring Pitched, Special Lighting System Installed, At Taggart Field; Expect Largest Crowd Yet To See Boxing Show Here; Twenty Battlers In 10 Bouts; Jess Willard, Former Heavyweight Champ To Be Feature Referee; Receipts To Aid Police Pension Fund.

Twenty-four hours from 8:15 o'clock tonight will find the police pugilistic carnival under way at Taggart field. The ring has been pitched, lights erected and the 5,000 or more seats are awaiting fans and fanettes.

There will be 10 battles, between 20 amateur boxers, the cream of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. Five of them are district champions, and with the presence of Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, as a feature attraction, it is believed that hundreds of men and women will attend the event, which is for the benefit of the police pension fund. The doors will open at seven o'clock.

For the past several days carpenters have been hammering and sawing, fixing up the ring, loaned by the Shelby Social club of Ellwood City to the police. All day Wednesday electricians were stringing wires and installing high-powered bulbs in order that the fans, no difference where they may sit, can see the boxers in action without the slightest straining of eyes. The ring was erected immediately in front of sections 4 and 4B. Five hundred chairs will be placed early Friday morning on the north, south and east sides of the ring. There will be no seats on the west side, owing to this side being the gridiron.

Arrangements Complete

Arrangements for handling the crowd were completed by Chief of Police Ralph Criswell and Fraternal Order of Police President D. J. Thomas yesterday. The chief assigned a squad of policemen to work inside and outside of Taggart field. As supervisor of the show, Ed. Fritz went to Ellwood City and appointed Joe Latiano, matchmaker of the Shelby Social club to act as one of his assistants Friday night. Joe will have charge of putting the fighters in the ring on time. Grover Syling, secretary of the F. O. P., secured Earl Reeves and Norman Buckingham to handle the ticket offices at the stadium. One window will handle all the reserved chairs and the other the general admission tickets.

The fans will go through the main gates. City and state police will take the tickets. After the fans enter the stadium they will see signs reading Sections 1 to 6, inclusive. Capable ushers and police will be present at all points to direct the spectators to seats. Ropes will be stretched between the sections and ropes also will be placed along the outside of the cinder path to prevent spectators from going upon the grass. Police also will be assigned to the west side of the playing field to keep any one from entering from that direction. Garf Ligo and Robert Stewart, in charge of property for the public school system, and police are co-operating. Judging from the co-operation that has existed, the fight should be one of the best attended yet held here.

Last-Minute Rush

Owing to the demand for seats, it was decided to increase the seating capacity 150 on the three sides of the ring. None of the ringside seats will be more than 60 feet from the ring.

Fighters are coming here from Pittsburgh, Monongahela City, Broughton, Pa.; Cleveland, Campbell, O., Youngstown, McKeesport—in fact, many cities throughout western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. They are reported to be the cream of their divisions in the amateur ranks, and although it is difficult to make perfect matches, it is said by the managers of the different lads that most of the bouts will prove very entertaining. Some of the boxers are husky and strong punchers, while others are good boxers and clever on their feet. No doubt each will be a fight from the crack of the first bell. Each bout is listed for three rounds of three minutes duration in each round.

Two Toms To Referee Bouts

Tom McMahon And Tom Jones, Ex-Fighters To Aid Chip, Willard

When the boxing show goes on at Taggart field, Friday night the referees will be Jess Willard, George Chip, Tom McMahon and Tom Jones. McMahon fought Willard many years ago and also mingled with such former celebrities as Gunboat Smith, Sailor Burke, Sam Langford, Jim Barry, Carl Morris, Bob Martin, Fred Fulton, Battling Levinsky. In fact he fought from Gulf to Lake and in the far-away Antipodes.

Tom McMahon

Jones also was some pumpkins as a lightweight fighter. He boxed Red Robinson, K. O. Sweeney, Young Fisher, Battling Terry (who will be a spectator), Mickie Rodgers, Johnny Callahan, Jimmie Duffy, Johnny Sheppard, et. al. In those days Tommy fought as a 133 pounder. At present he is a city policeman.

Grandovich In Mat Bout Here

Promoter Peter Askounes Bills Second Grappling Show For Monday

Peter Askounes, the wrestling promoter, announced today that there will be another four-bout program of catch-as-catch grappling Monday night at Centennial field. He has booked Sunaco against Grandovich, each weighing 192, for the main bout. Machoni will take on Rough-House Nelson, who won his bout here last Monday night. Podolak, who was supposed to display his talents last week and did not arrive, will take on Covro, and the local favorite, Morrie Suber, will match holds, strength and cleverness with Nick Impazina.

About 800 fans attended last week's inaugural of the sport here. The Suber-Wolfe match and Rough-House Nelson went over big. King Kong had the fans roaring the pleasure at his antics and their anger at his tricks. The bouts Monday will start at 8:30 p. m.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The nation's best mermaids today will start a four-day assault on record performances in the National A. A. U. outdoor swiming and diving championships at Manhattan Beach, N. Y. Heading the field are Lenore Kight Wingard, of Cincinnati, formerly of Homestead, Pa., and 18-year-old Katherine Rawls, of Miami Beach, Fla. Mrs. Wingard will defend three championships, the 440 yard, 880 yard and mile free style crown. Miss Rawls will seek to keep her 220 yard breast stroke and 300 meter individual medley titles. Other defending crown holders in the meet include Miss Olive McKean, of Seattle, in the 100 meter free style, and Miss Elizabeth Kompa, New York, in the 220 yard backstroke.

Jack Trammel chalked up another technical knockout last night when he won from Charlie Belanger, of Winnipeg, Canada. Sharp lefts to the face finally succeeded in inflicting cuts above Belanger's eyes and rather than have the wounds stretched it was decided to give the fight to the tall colored boy. Belanger tried to fight Trammel in close and at times he did succeed in landing some good punches to the body and swings to the face. However, Trammel had a nice lead when the bout terminated. Three thousand fans witnessed the bouts.

America's polo team trounced Great Britain 15 to 9, at London in the third and final game of the international series. The match was in effect, an exhibition for America had clinched the international trophy by winning the first two games of the season.

David Jones, former Columbia U tennis star, lost to Wilmer Allison, the American champion, at Wimbledon, England, yesterday, 14-12, 6-3, 6-4. The match lasted 90 minutes. During that time Jones was credited with 44 service aces and enthusiasts voted it the hardest service since the amateur days of Bill Tilden. It was a second round match.

Lack Of Interest In Softball Games

Whether or not New Castle has any more softball league games this year will remain to be seen after a meeting next week. There has been a lack of interest shown in the league in the past few weeks. Last night two teams the Nobils and Box Factory did not show up for games.

There is little cooperation shown between the teams and the league officials. It may be that the league will be discontinued after the meeting called for next Wednesday night. There will have to be better cooperation shown or no league will be run.

Another fracus embarrassing to the league officials was staged at the B. & O. field last night between the Knights of St. Vitus and Croton Progressives. There was a big crowd at the game, but many of the fans left when fists started to fly and the language became unbearable, it is reported.

Mike Jacobs Holds Reins

Jacobs Has Heavyweight Scrap Sewed Up Between Schmeling And Braddock

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK June 25.—A million dollar fight apple is bobbing about in a tub of intrigue today with Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting club, Inc., ducking for it on one side and Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden, Inc., ducking for it on the other.

Briefly, the situation is this: Mike holds an iron-clad contract on the commission-sanctioned challenger, Max Schmeling.

Johnston holds a similar contract on James J. Braddock, the champion.

Schmeling Named

Mike's contract runs ad lib, but Jimmy must, by the terms of his contract, name a challenger suitable to the champion by July 29. If the champion rejects the man named, the contract says the boxing commission may name the man and the commission has already named Max.

Mike might agree to sell his contract to the Garden for $100,000. Johnston intimates that the Garden would be glad to give him $50,000 for it, with the privilege of handling the fight tickets.

Under those conditions Mike might be willing to sell for, while the fifty grand would be only chicken feed to him, the ticket privilege might net him more money than the Garden could make on the fight.

Mike has the Garden stymied at the moment in several fight divisions because of his foresight in signing the champion or outstanding challengers and is in position to drive a hard bargain.

Yankees Get 24 Hits And Top White Sox

Joe DiMaggio Gets Two Homers In One Inning To Tie Ruth's Record

INDIANS TAKE PAIR OF GAMES

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 25.—That terrible moaning sound you hear today is the wail of anguish in concert from Major League managers trying to win baseball games with some of the shabbiest pitching staffs that ever went out for daily hammerings.

This decided weakness in two-thirds of the clubs has been admitted long before now, so there is nothing new about the situation, except that it keeps getting worse, and there is no limit to what batters might do before the season is over.

Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is so hard pressed for moundsmen that he has sent into the hospital for Johnny Murphy to join the club in the west and take up his duties where he left off when he pulled a stomach muscle weeks ago.

Yanks Slug Ball

Tuesday the Chicago White Sox made 13 runs off the Yanks and won, as they should have. Yesterday they lost, but made 11 runs in doing it, and only the Yankees' tremendous batting attack pulled them through to 24 hits and 18 runs. Lefty Vernon Gomez again folded up, and Pat Malone was only a slight improvement.

Ferrell and Miller hit homers for the Boston Red Sox, but they lost to the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 6, and thus dropped 5½ games back of the Yanks. Tommy Bridges scored his eighth victory for the Tigers.

Earl Averill hit three home runs for the Cleveland Indians as they swept two games away from the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 3 and 14 to 2, and Washington beat the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 4.

The only National League activity gave the New York Giants an even break with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who came back to take the nightcap 4 to 1 and break a Giant winning streak which had reached five in the opener, 4 to 3.

The Polish boys had eight hits off of Farrell, with Teddie Koltz and Brysh having the longest hits of the battle, both doubles. The former hammered home four runs for the winners, and played a sparkling game in the field.

Hartman's Team In First Place

GROVE CITY, June 25.—Baseball has been revived here this year in a big way, through the combined efforts of the local Sportsmen's club and Joe Hartman, high school athletic director, who pitched for three years with International League teams until a bad arm forced his retirement.

Under Hartman's direction, and with the support of the Sportsmen's club, almost the same group of players that has represented the community for several years, has developed into a sparkling club. At present the team is in first place in the Mercer County League, and the schedule favors a first-half championship. The team has lost only two out of 18 games with some of the best clubs in the district, and is receiving enthusiastic support from local fans.

American Golf Star Shoots Sub-Par Round Today On First Nine Holes

(International News Service)

HOYLAKE, Eng., June 25—Gene Sarazen, who won the British open golf championship for the United States in 1932, set the pace for the field in the 1936 title quest today as 107 star players including 5 Americans, started the tournament proper over lengthened and difficult Liverpool course at Hoylake.

All players started from scratch. the 107 having qualified yesterday by getting scores of 155 or better in the 36 holes of qualifying play. The scores counting toward the final championship total include only four rounds of 18 holes. One of these was played today and one will be played tomorrow. On Saturday the 60 low scorers will play 36 holes for the crown.

Continuing the sub-par golf which gave him a tie for third place in the qualifying field, Sarazen went out today in 35, one under perfect figures. The weather was ideal. A slight breeze being just strong enough to dispel the humidity but not enought to affect a well hit ball.

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—Before a throng of friends and relatives Miss Eileen Cullinan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick V. Cullinan of Line avenue, became the bride of Leo Laughlin, son of Mrs. Catherine Laughlin of Franklin avenue, at a high nuptial mass in the St. Agatha Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning. The beautiful ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Fr. R. D. A. Wilkey.

The wedding was one of the loveliest and most impressive of the season, which attracted a host of friends to the church. The couple are popular among the younger set of the community whose presence at the ceremony testified to the fact.

At the altar the bride presented a breath-taking scene in her floor length white satin gown with cowl neck line. She wore a tulle veil fashioned to the head in a tira of braided satin. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies. The maid of honor, Miss Helen McDonald, of Cleveland, O., cousin of the bride, was lovely in a long pink satin gown with matching hat and accessories. She carried a bouquet of sweet heart roses and baby breath. Joseph Laughlin, brother of the groom, served as best man.

After the ceremony they adjourned to the Hostess House on Glenn avenue where a wedding breakfast was served to 54, including immediate members of both families, relatives and friends. There were guests present from Youngstown, O., Salem, Steubenville, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Beaver Valley and Ellwood City.

The bride's table was centered with a beautifully tiered wedding cake surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. Further appointments were lighted white tapers in rose holders and bud vases. The words, "bride and groom" marked the place for the newlyweds. Cleverly constructed bouquets designated the places for the guests who were seated at tables adorned with pink roses and lighted tapers.

Following the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin left by motor on a post nuptial trip to New Jersey and various points of interest in the east. They also plan to visit the Democratic convention at Philadelphia. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished apartment in the Simon building on Lawrence avenue.

The bride graduated from the local high school with the class of '34. Mr. Laughlin attended the high school and for the past several years has held a responsible position in the accounting department of the local Shelby Tube plant.

Wants a Billion

Georges Bonnet, former French Minister of Finance (above), may be sent to the United States to arrange, according to reports, for a billion dollar loan to his country. Paradoxically, this is looked upon as an overture to the settlement of the French debt, for under the Johnson act, the elimination of the debt problem is essential. (Central Press)

ALL WENT WELL 'TILL CAKE BURNED

(International News Service)

URBANA, O.—A huge birthday cake, three feet high and as big around as a wash tub, lighted by 125 candles excited much mouth watering and many an oh! and ah! from members and guests of the Methodist church who attended an all day celebration of the 125th anniversary of the churches founding in Urbana.

It was a beautiful cake when its candles were lighted, but when they burned low the cake caught fire—it was made of paper. However, there was plenty of real cake to go around. Each person was served with an individual cake with the numerals 125 on the icing.

Wilson-Gaskell Wedding Wednesday

Lovely Wedding Ceremony Takes Place At Home On Ellwood-New Castle Road

ELLWOOD CITY, June 25.—In the galaxy of June weddings, one of the most lovely took place on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 when Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson of the Ellwood-New Castle road, became the bride of W. James Gaskell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gaskell of Pittsburgh Circle.

The vows were exchanged in the spacious living room before a beautiful altar of palms, ferns and baskets of garden flowers in the presence of thirty-five immediate relatives and friends. Rev. Charles Bell, D. D., of the Ellwood-New Castle road, who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents, was in charge of the service, assisted by Rev. Thomas Berger, pastor of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, using the single ring ceremony.

At the piano Mrs. Thomas Berger played "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding March."

An exquisite gown of white chiffon with a slight train fashioned in the present mode was chosen by the bride and she carried an arm cluster of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Warren W. Wilson was selected as the matron of honor and wore a pretty gown of peach organdie and carried a colonial bouquet. Robert Jones of this city served the groom as best man and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Equally attractive gowns were worn by Mrs. Wilson in violet chiffon and Mrs. Gaskell in yellow chiffon.

Following the congratulatory period the bridal party and guests were served a delectable dinner with a pretty color scheme of pink and white predominating. The bride's table was centered with a beautifully tiered wedding cake surmounted with a miniature bride and groom.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gaskell are popular members of the younger set of this city and are graduates of the local high school. Mrs. Gaskell has been a teacher in the local schools for a number of years. Mr. Gaskell is affiliated with the Mathews Conveyor company.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaskell departed on a motor trip for Washington, D. C., and other eastern points, and upon their return home will reside in the Vosler apartments.

They have been presented with an array of most lovely gifts for use in their new home.

G. O. P. Headquarters Removed To Chicago

Chairman John Hamilton Busy Lining Up Campaign Speakers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 25—National headquarters of the Republican national committee will be shifted to Chicago early next week, National Chairman John Hamilton announced today.

He also formally announced that Col. Frank Knox will be notified of his selection as vice presidential candidate on the Gov. Alfred M. Landon ticket in a ceremony in Chicago July 30, a week after the Kansas governor takes up the party standard at Topeka, July 23.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, Hamilton declared that Gov. Landon is "certain of victory in November". He predicted the Landon forces will break two or three states of the "solid south" and added:

"This thing has gone way beyond party limits. There will be the same or greater shift than in 1928 and 1932. The west is 'in the bag' and every state east of the Ohio and north of the Potomac rivers 'always has been'".

Hamilton said he had chosen Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal of Arizona as one of the four assistants to the chairman. He also conferred with Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of the late Vice President Curtis, and said he expected she would speak in the campaign.

Townsend Not Decided Upon His Candidate

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Dr. F. E. Townsend, leader of the $200-a-month old-age pension campaign, left here for Baltimore today after announcing that his organization will not support President Roosevelt for re-election. Neither, he said, will it support Gov. Landon.

"I understood that Democrats from northwestern states urged our plan on the Democratic platform committee," he said. "It was not at my instigation.

"Of course, the platform plank won't be adopted. And if it were it wouldn't make any difference—the promise wouldn't be kept."

The elderly doctor, who invaded convention hall during a demonstration, characterized it as a "lovely madhouse".

He reiterated that the Townsendite convention will decide whether support will be given to the Lemke third party.

Platform Plank Fight Is Reported Near To Solution

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Senator Robert Wagner of New York, chairman of the Democratic platform sub-committee of 12, was reported early this afternoon to have placed a proposed solution of the fight over a constitutional amendment plank before President Roosevelt by long-distance telephone.

Leaving the meeting after a three-hour session, Wagner predicted that the platform tangle would be straightened out.

Another member of the drafting sub-committee said, however, that the question of a constitutional amendment had not been settled. A battle was being staged, it was disclosed, for a plank calling for a constitutional amendment, if necessary, giving the federal, as well as state governments, control over hours of labor and wages.

PITTSBURGH—One application for a citizenship petition was on file here today for 18 persons.

PAD PLAY PEN

"Our baby's pen has seen several summers' wear by other babies, so the floor boards are too splintery for bare knees. I folded an old quilt to fit, sewed it a little, then hemmed a piece of canvas and put ties on the corners. The pad makes the pen comfortable. The canvas, being separate, is easily laundered."

This suggestion may be of help to another mother who has an old play pen.

Stock Market Tone Is Soft

Some Recovery From Forenoon Lows Develops During Day's Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock market maintained a generally soft tone today, although some recovery from extreme forenoon lows was effected.

Steel shares continued the depressing factor, as U. S. Steel, Republic, Youngstown and Bethlehem each dropped a point or more.

In liquor stocks, Schenley and National Distillers dropped a point and Commercial Solvents nearly as much.

The one bright spot was the oil department, where a long-awaited advance was enjoyed on the increased dividends voted by Barnsdall. The latter gained nearly a point to 17, while Standard of Jersey chalked up a somewhat larger advance. Consolidated also was well above its previous finish.

Chrysler, after spurting 1¾ points, fell back to last night's final price. General Motors and Auburn were little changed.

Slightly lower levels were set by utilities and rails. Farm implements were soft. Westinghouse Air Brake gained a point.

Bonds were irregular, with governments under pressure. Grains and cotton were steady.

Count Ciano May Visit U. S.

Son-In-Law Of Premier Mussolini Plans For Trip To United States

(International News Service)

ROME, June 24.—Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Premier Mussolini, was urged today to visit the United States as representative of Il Duce by William Griffin, publisher of the New York Enquirer.

The visit, if made, would be symbolic of the good will existing between the United States and Italy, Griffin told Ciano.

The publisher disclosed Count Ciano had tentatively approved the plan, saying:

"I have always had the greatest admiration for America. I was in the United States some years ago and would like to return."

Discuss War Debt

Discussing the question of foreign debts, Griffin said in his personal opinion America would be grateful if Italy made a token payment. Such a payment, he added, would be welcomed undoubtedly by a large section of American public opinion. Ciano, however, could make no commitment regarding Italy's future policy on the subject.

Appointment of Count Ciano as foreign minister at the age of 33 typifies new Italy, Griffin said.

"Italy today is a country of young men brought up under the Fascist regime," he declared.

Griffin told the foreign minister Americans admire Italy's achievement in freeing Abyssinia from slavery.

An Involuntary Steve Brodie Is Fished Out

Anthony Whitman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is shown as police haul him from the East River. Whitman plunged from the Brooklyn Bridge, scene of Steve Brodie's famous leap—but Whitman doesn't know whether he fell or was pushed. He just went over the side and gravity did the rest. His condition is not serious. (Central Press)

North Beaver Sees Benefit

Supervisors Report W. P. A. Projects Reduce Road Tax Levy In Township

With 12 miles of improved road added to the township system, and the road tax levy reduced from nine mills in 1934 to three mills for the current year, the supervisors of North Beaver township, R. E. Conway, W. G. Paden and W. O. Taylor are convinced that the WPA has meant something to their county.

In a statement made today by the three supervisors, they said that five and one-half miles of limestone and red dog road have been completed and thrown open for use, that six and one-half miles now under construction was being built under the WPA-Parkinson plan, that is, the state matches WPA money with money left over from the Parkinson act. The total cost of the WPA improvements in the township will be $126,500.

The routes upon which the work has been done are numbers 320, 360, 361, 363, 368, 379, 449. The tax millage cut has been sharp since 1934 and this, accompanied by 12 miles of good road, has created favorable comment throughout the township.

State P. H. C. Sessions End

Delegates Leave For Homes After Most Successful Convention

CATHEDRAL BALL CLOSING EVENT

By train and automobile the delegates and visitors to the Protected Home Circle convention began leaving late Wednesday night and by noon today there were but a few remaining in the city. The convention closed Wednesday night with a ball in the Cathedral ballroom. Prior to that an inner circle dinner was held at 6:30 and at 8:30 the inner circle degree was exemplified to a class of initiates.

The convention just closed has been characterized by officers as "the best held in many years". They were pleased with the arrangements with the facilities and with the ease that the scheduled events were carried out.

Many of those present from the eastern part of the state will return to the west on July 25 to attend the cornerstone laying ceremonies in Sharon. On that day the cornerstone for the P.H.C. building will be laid, marking the official start of the building that will replace the old headquarters which burned to the ground some months ago.

The Protected Home Circle was organized in 1886 by a Baptist minister, Rev. H. C. Hall, then filling a pastorate in Sharon. From Sharon the organization spread out over the state and the United States and today is one of the strongest fraternal organizations which also has an insurance carried with it.

The state conventions are held biennially and the next one to be held in 1938 will be in Hazleton, Luzerne county.

Some Highlights Of Sen. Robinson's Speech

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—High points from Senator Joseph T. Robinson's address last night as permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention are as follows:

On our record of pledges honestly redeemed, or services faithfully performed and under as gallant a leadership as ever raised a political banner, we advance to the battle of 1936 confident that the voters of the nation will not turn back to the defeated and disheartened leadership which abandoned them when the need for service, loyalty and courage was the greatest ever known.

* * *

Landon's action in making a prenomination platform statement was "the first instance in our history in which a candidate, by keeping silent on national public questions and after maneuvering himself into a position assuring his selection, has indicated a disposition to bolt on five or more subjects on which his party has spoken.

* * *

The Roosevelt administration has faithfully complied with the spirit of the Chicago platform promises. If there has been partial departure as to the letter of the planks in that platform relating to economy and balancing the budget the failure is attributable to the constantly changing conditions and necessities, and to the guerilla warfare of the Republican army.

* * *

United States currency is the soundest and the best in all the world, and we propose to keep it so.

* * *

Governor Landon did not dare advocate an immediate return to the gold standard.

* * *

The Democratic party contemplates balancing the budget as promptly as this can be done without permitting citizens who cannot secure private employment to experience suffering from hunger and cold.

* * *

Decisions of the supreme court in various cases have had the effect of slowing up national recovery. * * * In spite of these decisions the American people are going forward.

* * *

We recognize that the decisions of the supreme court, until reversed, are final and we abide by them.

* * *

The bar of the United States overwhelmingly repudiates the denial by the supreme court of the power to regulate maximum hours and minimum wages.
